GREAT DERBY RACE WILL FINISH FAIR

Last Day But One of Big Show Draws Immense Throng to Witness Program of Friday.

THREATENING WEATHER DOES NO HARM

GREAT FORT WAYNE DERBY DAY TOMORROW.

The Big Event of the Day Will be the $250 Derby Purse for Runners With Eighteen Entries. The Program Will be as Follows:

½ Mile Repeat	$100.00
¾ Mile Repeat	$100.00
1 1-16 Mile Derby Purse	$250.00
1 1-16 Mile Hurdle	$100.00
⅝ Mile Non-Winner's Consolation.

Twenty-five cents will be charged at the gates.

With the great Fort Wayne derby tomorrow the fair will close after at least two record breaking days, as the crowds of yesterday and today have been enormous and a just appreciation of the good things prepared for it has been shown by the public.

Saturday, as has been the custom for the last three years, will be for the runners only, and the principal event of the day will be the derby for a purse of $250, in which eighteen of the best horses at the track have been entered. The distance is a mile and a sixteenth and there are among the horses carded to start in the event some that were entered at Latonia and the other tracks of the country at the spring meetings.

Day in and day out people have come to the gates at the grounds under the impression that the entrance fee is 50 cents and many have planked down their half dollars and started away. The directors realize that the show is worth the half, but they have not raised the price, although this impression is firmly imbedded in the minds of hundreds of people.

Began Going Early.

Profiting by the experience of yesterday people did not wait until the day had grown very old before they started for the driving park and the cars began filling as early as 7:30 o'clock and an hour afterwards the cars in the service were as many as the company could handle and every one went out crowded to its utmost capacity.

There was another mishap when a car got off the track in the forenoon, but the company was prepared for just such an emergency and the interruption to traffic was not of grave consequence. The scheme of putting on the big interurbans and attaching trailers to them worked so well yesterday that it was tried again today, and it proved a most beneficial experiment, as the big crowds were handled with much more ease and speed than on the day preceding.

Interurbans Jammed.

Interurban cars from all of the lines dumped thousands and thousands of people at the transfer corner and the rush for the city lines was fierce all the forenoon, but at noon the crowd had been thinned out to some extent only to become more dense as soon as the manufacturing and mercantile establishments began to pour out their armies of employes.

It was the experience of former years for the city folks and many of them went out as far as the Spy Run bridge and paid two fares rather than to take a chance on being squeezed and jammed at the corner. The police could hardly keep the throng back over the danger line, as it pressed forward over the outside rail of the track and had to be pushed back before it would move.

The Grand Rapids and Indiana and the Nickel Plate specials were well loaded when they arrived and aided in swelling the great mass of humanity at the grounds. Northern Indiana sent down a representative gathering of people and with the officials of the principal cities as their guests the directors of the Great Fort Wayne fair had a royal entertainment in readiness for them.

Shows All Opened Promptly.

The shows and eating stands and hundred and one concessions on the grounds opened early on the bird and worm theory and before their usual breakfast time the privilege men had reaped a goodly harvest. It was still the Igorrotes that drew the big crowds. Curiosity to see the men and women and the baby of the village predominated and Manager John Krider did more business than any two shows on the grounds.

He will stick until the last thing tomorrow afternoon, as he is most agreeably surprised with the Fort Wayne fair attendance and has had a week that is highly pleasing to him. The show has been conducted on clean lines and every attention and courtesy has been extended visitors in accordance with the rules of the management.

Starter Not on Hand.

Col. Bob Wilson did not get to the track as early this morning as the races were advertised to start and for that reason the harness horses did not get out on the schedule, but the cream of the whole card had been held back by the rain and the program was given in a way to assure each and every patron excellent returns for the investment at the gates.

ACCUSE SECT OF TORTURING WOMAN

Five Parhamites Arrested at Zion City for Causing Death of An Aged Sufferer.

TRYING TO CAST OUT DEVIL, KILLED HER

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Five people, members of the sect of Parhamites, are under arrest in Zion City, accused of torturing to death Mrs. Letitia Greenhaulgh, sixty-four years old, a cripple for twenty years, to show their belief in the religion they profess.

The people under arrest are Walter and Jennie Greenhaulgh, the son and daughter of the woman, Harold Mitchell, Mrs. Harold Mitchell and a Mrs. Smith. All of them are accused of manslaughter.

Mrs. Greenhaulgh had been for twenty years an invalid, suffering from paralysis and rheumatism.

The sect of Parhamites was founded about a year ago by Charles F. Parham, and numbers about 200 persons. The members of the sect originally belonged to Dowie's church, and believe in the gift of tongues and especially in diabolical possession. It is their theory that sickness is an evidence of possession of the body by evil spirits.

Thought Her Possessed of a Devil.

The condition of Mrs. Greenhaulgh convinced her son and daughter and the three persons arrested with them that she must be possessed of the devil, and they determined to exorcise the evil spirit. The five knelt by the bedside and, after prayer, commenced their work. The arms of Mrs. Greenhaulgh, stiffened by rheumatism, were twisted about in order that the devil might be driven out. The cries of the aged woman were considered to be those of an evil spirit and were greeted with triumphant shouts. After a course of this violent treatment, Mrs. Greenhaulgh not only became so weak that she could not use her limbs, but became incapable of making any motions. Then her neck was twisted, and for some time this treatment was kept up.

Walter Greenhaulgh testified at the coroner's inquiry that Mitchell and his wife recently had a "vision" in which Mitchell was ordered to quit work and devote his time to casting out demons from the sick. Young Greenhaulgh declared that his mother's consent was obtained before the treatment was commenced. He declared that hypnotic passes were made before his mother's face, and then followed the muscular force which he said was strongly resisted by the "demons."

Woman Fearfully Tortured.

Mrs. Smith's part in the treatment, according to the testimony before the coroner's jury, consisted in raising Mrs. Greenhaulgh's head and holding her while Mitchell and his wife attempted to straighten the woman's limbs which had been twisted by years of rheumatism.

Greenhaulgh broke down and cried as he told his story. He declared that for some time his mother bore the treatment bravely, but at last the agony became so great that she could not restrain herself and she cried "Oh, Lord, help me!" a number of times. According to Greenhaulgh, Mitchell declared that her cries must not be heard by outsiders and he put his hand across her mouth to smother them.

The five worked over the victim until she died shortly before noon. After that, according to Greenhaulgh, Mrs. Smith became the leader in a "resurrection scene." In this, efforts were made to restore the dead woman to life. When these had failed, the announcement of her death was made. The case will be further investigated today by the authorities of Lake county, in which Zion City is situated.

VETERANS WILL HOLD NEXT REUNION AT MONROEVILLE

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Ligonier, Ind., Sept. 20.—With a great campfire meeting in which many of the old veterans participated, the annual reunion of the veterans of the Thirtieth Indiana volunteers held in this city came to a close last evening. Monroeville was chosen as the place for holding the reunion of 1908, and the matter of a date was left to the citizens of that town.

Capt. J. N. Ohlwine, of Cromwell, the veteran secretary of the Thirtieth Regimental association, to whom is due much of the credit for the success of past reunions, declined re-election to that office, pleading that after so long a service the burden of the office should now fall upon some other comrade.

New Officers Chosen.

The new officers elected were as follows:

President—John W. Meeks, Monroeville.

Vice President—John A. Johnson, Monroeville.

Secretary—William R. Brown, Fort Wayne.

Ligonier gave a royal greeting to the members of Lawton's old regiment, the city being handsomely decorated in their honor. Mayor Kinnison delivered the formal address of welcome at the opening session yesterday and the response was by A. H.

IS GETTING READY TO ESTABLISH A PARLIAMENT

Pekin, Sept. 20.—An imperial edict was issued today authorizing Prince Wu Lun, who was Chinese envoy at the St. Louis exposition, and Sun-Chi-Anai, in co-operation with the grand council, to frame regulations for the establishment of a council of deliberation, to aid the government, "so that the foundation may be laid for a parliament."

The dowager empress says that in the establishment of a representative government for China the opinion now of all must be considered and though the upper and lower houses are foundations of administrations, the throne is unable to establish them in China at present.

LONG IN PREPARATION.

Washington, Sept. 20.—The important edict referred to in the Pekin cablegram relative to the establishment of a council of deliberation has been in course of preparation for more than six months. The American legation at Pekin has been keeping a close watch on the development of this great scheme for the evolution of the Chinese despotism into a constitutional government and the state department has been kept fully advised of the project, which meets with full approval here. As in the case of Japan, America is ready to lend every assistance to China in adopting modern methods of government and in attaining to the rank of a fully civilized state.

SALOON MEN QUITE ANXIOUS FOR A RULING

Test of Mayor's Right to Revoke License Being Rushed at Muncie.

Muncie, Ind., Sept. 20.—With all possible haste, Wm. Vess, a saloon keeper whose license was revoked by action of Mayor Guthrie, is rushing his case to the supreme court in order that this body may finally determine whether the mayors of cities have the constitutional right to revoke city liquor licenses. Vess' case is now in the circuit court, where an early decision is anticipated.

It is said whichever way the decision may go, the appeal to the supreme court will be taken, as the fifteen Muncie saloon keepers who have been put out of business by the mayor are anxious to know exactly where they stand.

Mrs. Elizabeth Haverly, of Chicago, who was called here last week by the death of her son, George Haverly, will leave for her home tomorrow morning.

JOHN DEE KING OF STANDARD OCTOPUS

Elder Rockefeller Owns 247,500 Out of 972,692 Shares of Oil Stock According to Tilford.

CHICAGO UNIVERSITY OWNS 5,000 SHARES

New York, Sept. 20.—A record of the present stockholders of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, part of which was placed in evidence today in the federal suit against the oil combine, disclosed that John D. Rockefeller owns 247,642 out of 972,692 shares of stock and that his holdings are almost five times larger than the shareholdings of any other individual interest.

The record showed, though, that since the dissolution of the liquidating trust, Mr. Rockefeller has disposed of nearly ten thousand shares of his holdings.

Based on the present market value of $440 for Standard Oil stock, Mr. Rockefeller's interest in the company is valued at about $109,000,000.

Mr. Kellogg succeeded in getting upon the record today evidence which tended to show that the Standard Oil company had made an agreement to furnish certain independent companies in and about Pittsburg with crude oil on condition that their output of oil refined for exporting purposes should be turned over to the export department of the Standard company.

DETAILS OF THE HEARING.

New York, Sept. 20.—When the hearing of the United States' case against the Standard Oil company, of New Jersey, was resumed today Wesley H. Tilford, treasurer of the company, again took the witness stand to be questioned further for information regarding the transition of the Standard Oil trust into the present oil combine.

Accountants for the government are still engaged on the records of the liquidating trustees and ledgers obtained from the company and while the examination has not been fully completed it was said today that the books of the Standard company show that since 1882 to the present time the oil combine has earned between $800,000,000 and $900,000,000. The accountants are expected to complete their work some time next week, when the exact figures will be produced in court. The officials who are conducting the government case are highly appreciative of the information they have obtained from Attorney General Ellis, of Ohio, and attorney generals of other states who have aided them in this case.

Why Dividends Were Small.

Mr. Tilford, on resumption of the hearing today, was asked if the dividends of the Standard Oil company, of New Jersey, in 1894, was $14,304,188 or $32,008,541.

"I think the dividend was $14,304,188," replied Mr. Tilford.

"And the reason why the dividends were so small was that the dividends in the subsidiary companies were paid to individuals instead of to the Standard Oil company of New Jersey?"

"Yes, I think so," said Mr. Tilford.

Mrs. Tilford said that to the present 972,492 shares of the Standard Oil company of New Jersy had been exchanged for trust certificates. He said there still remains outstanding stock to the subsidiary companies which has not been exchanged for the remaining eight shares of the Standard Oil company.

Mr. Tilford's Short Memory.

Mr. Tilford did not know if it was a fact that in 1888 or 1889 the Manhat-

TEACHER IS FOUND STRANGLED IN HER BED

Atrocious Crime Comes to Light in Chicago—Was Choked With Towel.

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Mrs. Lillian White Grant, a kindergarten teacher in the Chicago public schools, was found dead in bed today in her home at 5520 Madison avenue, and the indications are that she was murdered. The room showed signs of a struggle and around the woman's throat was tightly twisted a piece of linen with which she had been choked to death.

Mrs. Grant's pocketbook, rifled of its contents was found later in the day in the office of a physician fifty feet distant from the house in which she lived. The police are looking for a colored man who did chores around the neighborhood, on the theory that he is the murderer.

A post-mortem examination showed that the woman's neck had been broken by the cloth wound about her throat, also there were deep marks of fingers on the neck. The murderer obtained a good start before the crime was discovered. Mrs. Grant intended to move and had engaged two men to carry away her furniture. One of them went to the room yesterday morning, and seeing the body lying across the bed, hastily withdrew. Today he went again to get the furniture and finding the body in the same position notified the police. It is believed that the woman was strangled Wednesday night.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 20.—Mayor J. Berry Mahool, of Baltimore, was today unanimously elected president of the League of American Municipalities. Secretary McVickar cast the vote of the convention. Mr. Mahool accepted in a strong speech.

Former President Dunne, of Chicago, was presented with a handsome loving cup on behalf of the convention by Councilman Young, of Kansas City.

A FUGITIVE'S NERVE ENABLES HIM TO GO FREE

Climbs Tree Beside Railroad Track and Drops on Speeding Train.

Elwood, Ind., Sept. 20.—Orvel Frick performed a daring feat here while escaping from a patrolman who was attempting to arrest him on an old comittment. Frick was chased over a mile and fled into Tipton county, where he was so hard pressed that he climbed a tree by the side of the Lake Erie tracks. The officer tried to induce him to come down, but he would not obey.

The patrolman sent for an ax and was just starting in to cut the tree down when a freight train came along. Frick dropped from the tree, landing squarely on his feet on top of a box car. He managed to grab the running board and saved himself from death. The train was running at the speed of about twenty miles an hour. Advices to the Tipton officers to arrest him met with no response and it is supposed he left the train before it reached there.

MAYOR'S DAUGHTER ILL.

Miss Jean Hosey Undergoes Operation for Appendicitis.

Miss Jean Hosey, 12 years of age, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. W. J. Hosey, was taken very ill suddenly Thursday from appendicitis. At 10 o'clock last evening the patient was removed to St. Joseph's hospital, where she submitted to a surgical operation. Information today is to the effect that Miss Hosey is doing as well as could be expected.

Mayor and Mrs. Hosey are in the east, having left several days ago to attend the Jamestown exposition.

The Redmen will have an open meeting at their hall next Wednesday evening. Following the speaking, there will be progressive pedro and refreshments.

POISONED HUSBAND WHO WOULD NOT CLEAR OUT

Philadelphia Woman Gave Spouse Arsenic When He Tarried.

Philadelphia, Sept. 20.—Because Frank Keroyski, aged 40 years, refused to obey his wife's order to leave her, she poisoned him with arsenic, according to officials of the coroner's office. The widow, together with her sisters' husband, Joseph Durrock, were arrested yesterday charged with the crime.

The widow, according to the coroner's officials was in love with Durrock and wanted her husband out of the way in order that she might live with him. When she came to this country from Poland last December both her husband and Durrock were in the county prison serving a ten months' sentence for larceny. She went to friends and afterwards conceived the idea, the police say, that she would be happier with Durrock than she ever could be with her husband. After the men were released from prison the trio went to live together, according to the police. The wife commanded the husband to leave. He refused. She offered him $50 if he would go but still he declined. Finally, the officials of the coroners' office say, the wife was seen to put something in a drink of whisky which her husband drank. Keroyski became ill and told friends that his wife had threatened to poison him and died in three days. A city chemist found enough arsenic in his viscera to kill ten men.

LOEB MUM AS AN OYSTER.

Will Not Say Whether or Not Telegraphers Called on Roosevelt.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 20.—Whether or not the striking telegraphers have appealed to President Roosevelt to arbitrate the questions involved in the strike could not be ascertained at the president's office today. Secretary William Loeb, Jr., declined either to affirm or deny the report published today that Percy Thomas, deputy vice-president of the Commercial Telegraphers union and Daniel L. Russell, former president of the New York city local union, had visited the president at Sagamore Hill on Wednesday and talked with him for two hours. Mr. Loeb would say nothing whatever about the report.

Frederick H. Scheumann, the undertaker, who was crushed between two street cars yesterday, is reported to be resting rather more easily today. The outcome of his injuries, however, is extremely problematical.

FOURTEEN MEN ARE KILLED BY FALL OF MINE CAGE

Lift in Michigan Shaft is Shot Down to Depth of Over 700 Feet.

Marquette, Mich., Sept. 20.—Fourteen men were killed outright and three fatally injured today by the falling of a cage in the Rolling Mill mine at Negaunee, Mich.

The cage was full of men and every one in it was either killed or seriously injured. The steel cable broke and the cage dropped 700 feet. The bodies have been taken out and the injured are being cared for.

The mine is the property of the Jones-Laughlin steel company, of Pittsburg.

WILL TAKE OCTOPUS MAGNATES FOR BAIL

Grosscup Will Approve Bond Signed by Rockefellers and Others.

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Judge Grosscup in the United Stated circuit court today declared that he would accept Standard oil officials as surety on the two bonds to be filed by the Standard Oil company of Indiana, before that corporation can obtain a writ of supersedeas preventing the government from collecting the fine recently imposed by Judge Landis, pending an appeal.

The attorneys for the government declare that they would be satisfied with bonds signed by John D. Rockefeller, Wm. Rockefeller, John D Archbold and Henry M. Flagler. One bond is to be for $4,000,000 and the other for $2,000,000, two men to sign each bond. Judge Grosscup declared that he would accept the bonds if presented.

MR. BRYAN WILL NOT BE DEAF TO THE CALL OF HIS PARTY

Nebraskan Soon to Issue a Statement — Heading Off Chanler.

Washington, Sept. 20.—Stirred to activity by the energetic efforts to rally the conservative forces of democracy around the standard of Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler, of New York and concerned over the growth of the Chanler movement in the south, William Jennings Bryan will, within a few weeks, take the country into his confidence in regard to his attitude toward the democratic presidential nomination in 1908.

He will announce his willingness to lead the party again if the masses of democracy deem him the most available man. To assist them in reaching a conclusion as to his availability Mr. Bryan will state his position on all public questions that are likely to figure as issues in the campaign. He will discuss the tariff, trusts, railroads, federal and state powers and their respective spheres and limitations, and other important matters.

Issue for Future.

He may not discuss the government ownership for Mr. Bryan has said to close friends recently that he realizes that government ownership is an issue for the future, that the party is not ready to follow him on that question now and that he will defer to the majority of his party as to issues that are, and those that are not of immediate importance.

Likewise the initiative and referendum may be stowed away in political mothballs to await some future campaign in which Mr. Bryan may figure. The statement which Mr. Bryan will make to the democrats of the country will be submitted to a conference of his friends before it is published.

This conference had been arranged for Sept. 25, but it has been postponed and it was said here today that it will be held some time in October, probably in Omaha, although Chicago may be selected as the place.

Will Act Soon.

Mr. Bryan, it is declared by his intimate friends, will not postpone the matter, for he realizes that prompt action is necessary to counteract the work of the conservatives, particularly in the south. Mr. Bryan is credited with believing that the democracy has a show of winning next year. He has said to members of the party recently that the campaign will rival that of 1896 in interest and be fought out on much the same lines, but he holds that the result will be different.

He will say in his statement that he prefers not to be a candidate again, but will lead the party once more if necessary to save it from being committed to the "conservatives" so called and to prevent a repetition of the Parker fiasco of 1904.

S.S.S. CURES BLOOD POISON

In no other disease is a thorough cleansing of the blood more necessary than in Contagious Blood Poison. The least particle of this insidious virus will multiply in the circulation and so thoroughly contaminate the blood that no part of the body will be exempt from the ravages of this powerful disease. Usually the first symptom is a little sore or ulcer, insignificant in itself, but soon the blood becomes so contaminated that the mouth and throat ulcerate, glands in the groin swell, hair and eye-brows come out, copper-colored spots appear on the body, and frequently sores and ulcers break out on the flesh to humiliate the sufferer. S. S. S. cures Contagious Blood Poison by purifying the circulation. It attacks the disease in the right way by going down into the circulation, neutralizing and forcing out every particle of the poison, and making this fluid pure, fresh and health-sustaining. The improvement commences as soon as the patient gets under the influence of S. S. S., and continues until every trace of the disease is removed from the blood, and the sufferer completely restored to health. Not one particle of the poison is left for future out-breaks after S. S. S. has purged and purified the blood. Book on the home treatment of this disease and any medical advice desired free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

BOARD PASSES UPON A GRIST OF MATTERS AT SESSION

Street Paving Bids Taken Under Advisement—The Routine.

The board of public works at its meeting last night let to O. F. Menefee the contract for cement walks on the east side of Webster street from Creighton avenue to Woodland at 73 2-5 cents for width of six feet and 71 2-5 for seven; on the south side of Madison from Harmer to Division to the same contractor at 76 2-5 cents. Derheimer & Co. got the contract for grading Nuttman avenue and laying walks at 38 cents for grading and 69 for the sidewalks.

One bid was received, that of the Cleveland Trinidad Asphalt Paving company, for the pavement on Brackenridge street between Fairfield avenue and Broadway and it was taken under advisement until Monday. The price was $5.80 a running foot.

For the paving on Winter street Derheimer & Co. bid $8.13 a running foot and the Moellering Construction company $7.07½ and both were held up to look at the paving blocks before making a choice. The contract for the construction of a sewer in an alley south of Superior street was also held for investigation.

Resolutions were adopted for the following improvements: Cement walks on both sides of Lafayette, from Esmond to Wiehke; on the east side of Hanna, from McKee to city limits, and on the west side of Hanna from Pontiac to Oxford; grading Short street, from Fifth to Huffman; sewer in the alley between Heustis and Grace avenues.

Action on the resolutions for cement walks on the south side of Polk street and for a sewer in Nelson street was deferred for one week.

A petition was received for cement walks on the north side of Prospect avenue and as it will be impossible to construct the walks this fall they will be ordered early next spring.

A contract for the construction of a sewer in Barthold street was let to Anton Reig at 85 cents a running foot. He also captured the contract for a sewer in Spring street, his bids being 89 cents for both twelve and fifteen-inch pipe.

BISLEY MAKES A KICK.

Says It Is Not Necessary to Hold Him Any Longer.

Louis Bisley, held in jail because he can not satisfactorily explain the possession of a watch and who was convicted of stealing one belonging to Theodore Hardendorff several months ago, made a kick this morning in the city court when the prosecutor asked the judge to hold him for further investigation, but his case was continued until Sept. 30. He said he had been held already fifteen days and there is nothing against him. Charles Harris and James Evans, both plain drunks, were let go.

CHRONIC STOMACH TROUBLE

Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills After Sufferer Had Doctored for Years in Vain

The tonic treatment for indigestion is having remarkable success in curing obstinate cases of that distressing malady and deserves attention from every sufferer. Its principle is that remedies for indigestion that digest the food for the stomach give relief for only a short time. Ultimately they unfit the stomach to do its own proper work, because they make its already weak power still weaker by disuse, while the remedy that strengthens the stomach makes it more and more capable of digesting the food for itself and this benefit lasts. A remedy that is a tonic not only for the stomach but for the blood and nerves as well, invigorates the entire system and makes recovery from the weakening effects of indigestion rapid and thorough.

Miss Cynthia Hart, of 418 E. Mulberry street, Lebanon, Ohio, says: "I was a sufferer from stomach trouble for several years and found no relief in doctors' or other medicines. My appetite was gone, I was troubled constantly by headaches and dizzy spells and was so nervous that I was annoyed and worried by any little noise. It was almost impossible to sleep at night and I was easily tired out. The least bit of work made me short of breath. I lost in weight and was so run down that I knew I must soon find some help or give up.

"While undecided what to do I ran across a newspaper containing a case like mine cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and at once bought a box. There was soon such a decided improvement that I continued using the pills and was entirely cured. The best proof of this is that I have been well ever since. I cannot recommend the pills too highly."

Sufferers from dyspepsia in any form who have found their condition unrelieved or actually growing worse while using ordinary remedies, would do well to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are sold by all druggists or direct by mail, postpaid on receipt of price, 50c per box; six boxes, $2.50. A diet book will be sent free on application to Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

HOLDS 2-CENT FARE LAW CRIME

Pennsylvania Judge, in Knocking It Out, Uses Strong Langauge.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 20.—The two-cent fare law enacted at the recent session of the Pennsylvania legislature was adjudged invalid, unconstitutional and void in its application to the Susquehanna River and Western Railway company, which connects Duncannon and Bloomfield, in an opinion delivered yesterday at Bloomfield by Judge Shull of the Perry county court. The law, he declares in his decree, is a caprice of a legislature, "many of whose members, without rhyme or reason, facts or figures, information or reputation, pledged to perform the act in the name of 'Reform,'" and that "we might say of reform as was said by Mme. Roland of Liberty in the days of the French revolution: 'Oh, Liberty, Liberty, how many crimes are committed in thy name.'"

Add, while hot, one tablespoon butter, one-half teaspoon salt and a dash of pepper. Beat till light and stir in two tablespoons cream or milk. Now fold in beaten whites of two eggs, turn into a baking dish and bake one-half hour in moderate quick oven. (Reserve yolks of eggs for mayonnaise for dinner.)

Grandma's Rusks (Mrs. M. E. Sharpe)—Set sponge at night as for bread, using as basis one pint milk and one yeast cake. In the morning heat one pint milk, add four ounces butter, and when milk is just warm enough to melt the butter add to the sponge; next three beaten eggs and one cup sugar. Work well into loaf with flour and set in warm place to rise. When very light roll out and cut in small cakes about one and one-half inches thick. When risen sufficiently bake a light brown and serve.

Cough Caution

Never, positively never poison your lungs. If you cough—even from a simple cold only—you should always heal, soothe, and ease the irritated bronchial tubes. Don't blindly suppress it with a stupefying poison. It's strange how some things finally come about. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cough mixtures or prescriptions containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now—a little late though—Congress says "Put it on the label if poisons are in your Cough Mixture." Good! Very good!! Here for this very reason others, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance then, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and note the difference. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding

MORE OF STANDARD OIL.

Frank B. Kellogg, special agent of the federal government, is piling up important evidence in the New York hearing. This evidence will be used by the government later in its suit at St. Louis to force the dissolution of the Standard Oil company. In addition to having compelled a showing of the enormous profits of the oil trust, reaching the height of 1,000 per cent. in the case of at least one subsidiary company, the trust is shown to have bid hearty defiance to governments and courts and gone on its rapacious way undismayed. Some of the facts brought out are startling.

Wednesday it was shown that the Waters-Pierce Oil company, now fighting for its life in Texas, was actually the agent of the Standard Oil trust in that state at the time it first got into trouble with the Texas laws. The company was reorganized and Standard oil, then the object of legislative attack in several states, dared not hold stock in its own name. Stock that had been the property of the Standard Oil company went nominally into possession of Charles M. Pratt, a director and now the secretary of that company. He collected something like $1,800,000 a year from the stock, when he arranged to transfer it to M. M. Van Buren, of New York, for approximately $150,000 in cash and a note for $4,000,000. It was not stated to the court in the New York hearing that Van Buren is the son-in-law of John D. Archbold, one of the four or five biggest men in the Standard oil interests. Later the stock was transferred to the parent concern. Mr. Van Buren lost nothing.

Thursday, among other things brought out was the fact that the Corsicana Oil company now doing business in Texas, is owned by the Standard Oil company, which corporation is prohibited from doing business in Texas. Of this fact the state authorities of Texas will doubtless take due and proper note.

What more Kellogg will unearth as he proceeds on his course stripping the secret affairs of the big oil trust cannot even be guessed at. One thing appears certain. When the government opens fire from its batteries at St. Louis it will be well stocked with destructive ammunition.

Japan is getting to it, though not with unseemly and disturbing haste, but gradually and inevitably. Comes now announcement that Marquis Ito, chief Japanese administrator in Korea, finds the populace of that kingdom so hostile to Japanese domination and so threatening in their feeling that annexation seems to promise the only solution of administrative difficulties. That was expected, but development of the plan was hardly thought to be so near maturity as dispatches from Tokio indicate. So far as the thing itself is concerned it will be better for Korea to be placed directly and unequivocally under Japanese dominion. It will go far to nip the threatened revolt, quiet disorder, establish a competent government and open Korea to modern progress. At the same time—well, we are on the verge of necessity to do the same thing in Cuba, so what's the use of moralizing?

The people of Oklahoma doubtless feel much obliged to Judge Taft and the federal administration he was sent there to represent for the interest displayed in their first constitutional election, but they have sent back word that they can take care of their own affairs capably. And they have done so. Oklahoma has chosen a democratic administration and legislature, which latter will send two democrats to the United States senate, has elected four democrats and one republican to congress, and has adopted an extremely progressive constitution. All told, the people of Oklahoma have done very well. They have taken advanced ground on the liquor question and have put in their organic law a prohibition of the traffic. For a start-off, not much more could reasonably be expected.

What is done or is not done by way of law enforcement in Indianapolis has no logical bearing on the situation in Fort Wayne. A bad example can never do service as an excuse. There is, however, this much difference up to date: Indianapolis city government has arrested and caused to be punished a score or more of saloonkeepers who violated the Sunday law. If looking to Indianapolis for examples, why not take the good ones?

Following the disclosure that Standard Oil has been doing business in Texas in defiance of the law ousting it from that state, the man down there who wants to erect a monument to John D. Rockefeller as the greatest living man in the world, would perhaps do well first to consult the state authorities and later his neighbors. Can't tell what might happen in Texas.

The report that Henry M. Rogers had gone down the toboggan about half way and left $40,000,000 at the stopping place, is refuted with the statement that the arch-priest of frenzied finance still has left the bagatelle of $200,000,000, mostly cash. This will be a great public relief. Would regret occasion to feel sorry for any poor millionaire.

It was a pretty hard jolt the weather man landed on the solar plexus of the Fort Wayne fair early in the week, but he has made almost ample amends. Two finer days than yesterday and to-day seldom come out of the east.

It remains to be seen how much bigger than the whole nation the Standard Oil octopus really is. Nation is pretty big, but the trust is some big, too.

BLACK IS STILL MISSING.

Consequently His Marriage Has Been Indefinitely Postponed.

Muncie, Ind., Sept. 20.—By the formal return to the office of the county clerk, last evening, of the marriage license issued to Miss Effie Iserman and Edgar Claire Black, the young woman's family hope to end the incident of the desertion of the bride by the bridegroom Tuesday night. Neither family will discuss the affair at length, but Miss Iserman and return to the office of the county clerk, discovered Black's duplicity in time.

None will say, however, that there is no possibility of the marriage being celebrated in time. "Indefinitely postponed," is the way Charles Iserman, father of the young woman, speaks of it.

Black's father, Norman Black, vice president of the People's National bank, is somewhat concerned for his son's safety, as is also the young man's brother, employed in the same bank, but others do not seem much alarmed about him. No one seems to know why Black failed to appear for his wedding.

People were packed in the grand stand and bleachers and all along the embankment when the word to start was given and there was a dense throng watching the excellent lot of horses that were entered in the afternoon's events.

There were two or three threatening hours in the forenoon that looked like Jupiter Pluvius was again ready to interfere with business, but the other elements were against him and the attendance was not greatly affected by the clouds that gathered ominously.

BIG RACING CARD PUT ON.

A big racing card was put on yesterday as soon as the condition of the track permitted and although the going was a bit heavy at the outset the horses soon pounded it into excellent shape and by the time Col. Bob Wilson called a halt there was prospect for some record breaking time today. Ed Sweeney got away with the third heat of the unfinished race of the 2:24 pace as handily as he had captured the other two and was in no danger from Toma Hanlon, who finished second.

Tad S. was the winner of the 2:14 pace, but his driver had to go to the whip in two of them to take the money from Stately Kid in the first and Silva J. in the second. The 2:19 trot was also a straight heat event that was won handily by Sid Thorn. Lotta M. took second money, getting the place in the first and second.

Two heats of the 2:17 pace were run off and both went to Hagan S. It was nearly dark before the runners were called out for the hurdle, in which Fred Mader was the winner.

tan Oil company, of Ohio, sold its tank cars to the Union Tank line, a subsidiary company of the Standard Oil company, nor could he say if the Ohio Oil company, another Standard subsidiary, purchased the oil producing wells of the Manhattan company.

"Now did not the Solar Refining company, another subsidiary company of the Standard, purchase at that time the refinery of the Manhattan Oil company?" asked Mr. Kellogg.

Mr. Tilford again replied, "I don't know."

Mr. Tilford was questioned regarding the records showing the amounts of shares the subsidiary companies held in exchange for trustees certificates. The witness said he did not have the record.

Mr. Tilford was shown a record of stockholders of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey in 1907. According to Mr. Tilford 6,000 shares were owned by John D. Archbold and 150 shares by John F. Archbold, son of John D. Archbold. The former was one of the signers of the original trust agreement. S. G. Bayne & Co. owned 410 shares. S. G. Bayne is president of the Security Oil company.

Mr. Tilford was questioned about the stockholdings of the Bostwick and Brewster families. The witness gave little information about the identity of the numerous individuals who held the stock.

Flagler's Big Holdings.

Mr. Kellogg reading over the list of stockholders, many of whom he inquired about, Mr. Tilford spread on the record that H. M. Flagler owned 30,000 shares of Standard Oil stock. Mr. Kellogg's inquiry was directed to adduce that many of those individuals who signed the original trust agreement in 1892 were still identified with the company. Oliver J. Payne, who signed the trust agreement, holds 40,000 shares of the company's stock. The stockholdings of Charles H. Pratt were shown to be 52,582 shares, while his son, Charles M. Pratt, jr., secretary of the company, owns 5,000 shares of the Standard stock.

"How much does Mr. Rockefeller own?"

"How many shares does William Rockefeller own?"

"I find by the record 11,700 shares,' answered Mr. Tilford.

"How many shares does H. H. Rogers own?"

"The record shows that Mr. Rogers owned 16,020," answered Mr. Tilford, who further stated that John D. Rockefeller, jr., owned 120 shares.

The present record of stockholders in the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey shows that John D. Rockefeller has since 1899, when the Standard Oil trust was finally dissolved, reduced his holdings in the company by 9,162 shares. It was developed yesterday that Mr. Rockefeller held 256,854 liquidating trustees' certificates out of a total of 972,500 certificates.

List of Stockholders.

Mr. Kellogg showed Mr. Tilford a list of stockholders of the Standard Oil Company of New York who voted at the annual meeting of the company on Jan. 6, 1896, together with the number of shares represented. The list was:

John D. Archbold	575
Emma B. Auchincloss	170
Benjamin Brewster	719
Paul Babcock	1
L. D. Clarke	1
H. M. Flagler	2,159
Charles Harkness	4,613
Annie B. Jennings	150
Esther J. Jennings	293
Helen G. Jennings	170
Oliver G. Jennings	150
Walter Jennings	173
James F. Kerr	1
A. M. McGregor	1
O. H. Payne	1,429
Estate of Chas. Pratts	3,598
H. H. Rogers	1,354
John D. Rockefeller	18,488
William Rockefeller	935
W. H. Tilford	107
William T. Wardell	1
Percy H. Williams	1
Total	35,599
Trustees of Standard Oil trust (non-voting)	34,391
Fractions (non-voting)	10
Total	70,000

The record of the meeting held for the purpose of electing directors shows that Wm. Rockefeller, John D. Rockefeller, H. M. Flagler, John D. Archbold, H. H. Rogers, W. H. Tilford, A. M. McGregor, Paul Babcock and C. M. Pratt were elected directors, receiving 35,599 shares out of a total of 70,000 shares.

Holders in Parent Corporation.

The record of stockholders of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, only part of which was read further showed that the University of Chicago owned 5,000 shares; the estate of F. G. Bostwick 15,000 shares; the estate of Benjamin Brewster ten thousand shares; H. C. Folger 2,145 shares; the estate of D. M. Harkness 42,000 shares; the estate of O. B. Jennings 17,000 shares; the Charles Lockhardt estate of Pittsburg 8,500 shares; L. C. Ledyard and Payne Whitney, jointly 8,000 shares; the estate of Daniel O'Day 2,665 shares; the estate of W. G. Warden 5,585 shares; the W. C. Whitney estate 5,000 shares and the estate of P. A. B. Widener 3,000 shares.

CENTS WITH SILVER CENTER.

A curious cent, dated 1792, which has come into the hands of a coin dealer, is said to represent the first attempt to strike a coin of this denomination at the United States mint at Philadelphia.

On the obverse is a rather ugly head of Liberty to the right, with hair flowing behind, and below, in small figures, is the date "1792." Around the border is inscribed "Liberty Parent of Science and Indust." (ry). On the reverse is a wreath inclosing the words "One Cent," with "1-000" below, and surrounding the whole central device is the inscription "United States of America."

The piece is much smaller than the ordinary colonial cent, being about the size of the half cent struck in the year following. It is composed of copper, but before placing the blank in the coinage press a small plug of silver had been inserted in the middle, and the rarity now is known to coin collectors as the "silver center cent." It is said the intention in putting in this plug of silver was to bring up the intrinsic value of the coin to exactly one cent.

It is thought that the cent was the design of a blacksmith named Peter Getz, of Lancaster, Pa., a self-taught engraver who was employed at the mint when that institution first began operations in 1792, and who cut the dies for several other varieties of the early coins. The same design was struck in plain copper, but without the silver plug, and this variety, too, is very rare.—New York Herald.

INSISTS THAT MRS. GENTRY ENDED OWN LIFE

Frank Constantine Tells Well Composed Story of Woman's Death.

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Frank J. Constantine, on trial for the murder of Mrs. Louis Gentry, took the stand in his own defense today. He showed absolute composure while in the stand and gave his testimony clearly and without hesitation. He declared that he was born in New York city and is 23 years of age.

He came to this city to go into the boot blacking business, as he had been in that vocation in New York and after selling out had made an agreement not to re-enter the business there. He said that when he engaged a room in the Gentry home, he told Mrs. Gentry that his father was a wealthy real estate man.

"Did you ever tell the Gentrys that you were of royal blood?"

"I did. I am a descendant from Italian royalty."

Constantine declared that he had heard Mr. and Mrs. Gentry quarreling many times and said that they lived unhappily.

On the day of the tragedy he said that he went into his room to shave, and found Mrs. Gentry there making the bed. He told her that he was about to leave the city and she asked him if he would not take her with him. She insisted, according to Constantine and he positively refused. She then, according to his story, picked up the razor and cut her throat.

He declared that he carried her down to the door of Dr. Doherty's office, pounded on the door and then left her standing there while he ran for another doctor. He said that he noticed, while hunting for this second doctor, that there was blood on the sleeve of his coat and he thought that if he returned he would be accused of the murder and would not receive justice in the courts because he was a stranger in the city. He then declared that he fled from Chicago.

Constantine declared that he had always wanted to give himself up but had been prevented from doing so by the members of his family.

WILL PROBABLY STIR UP LIVELY FIGHT AT HUNTINGTON

Divided Opinion on Lighting Franchise for Trolley System.

Huntington, Ind., Sept. 20.—It has been a long time since a public question has attracted as much local attention as the franchise asked by the Fort Wayne & Wabash Valley Traction company for the use of the streets and alleys for stringing wires by which it can furnish lights and power to consumers in this city. The discussion is reaching fever heat and there are supporters to both sides of the question. The matter is now in the hands of committee No. 1 of the city council, and this committee will most likely make some kind of a report at the council meeting next Tuesday evening.

It is almost a positive fact that the committee will not recommend that the proposition be received with a flat refusal. The company has not yet stated what it has to offer in the way of concessions or privileges and until the council knows what is to be received it will not likely take a decided vote to result in turning the proposition down. Many people in the city are favorable to the franchise, while others are bitterly opposed.

The councilmen are now making up their minds as to what shall be required of the company in case the franchise is granted. One has stated that he will not cast a vote favorable for the franchise unless the company comes under at least the same restrictions that the Huntington Light and Fuel company is operating its plant.

It is not the purpose of any of the councilmen to place such hardships on the company that will keep it out, but it will have to make a showing that will indicate that it has an interest in the welfare of the city to at least a certain extent. The committee will take definite steps at the meeting of the three members next Monday night.

THE CURE FOR WORRY.

(George Harvey in the North American Review.)

Can worry be avoided or overcome? Is the disease curable without divine interposition? Undoubtedly, if the theory of thought-transference be accepted as indeed an established scientific fact, because surely an image tending upward can be communicated as freely—if not, in fact, with greater readiness, because of the larger deceptivity for that which is pleasing—as an image tending downward. Thus, clearly, there may be brought into action for success those very forces which worry excites for ruin—forces which may or may not be irresistible, but certainly are, as the wise doctor observes, the most potent of earthly life and, consequently, all that we poor humans can summon to our aid, unless we adopt the effeminate practice of those silly persons who constantly annoy the Almighty by beseeching him to tide them over their petty difficulties. Not that their troubles seem slight to them; far from it; invariably they are more serious than any others' can possibly be; but the mere certainty that, if God should stamp them out personally, instead of leaving such work, as he does and ought, to nature, other trials of no less consequence would promptly arise, shows clearly enough that, in reality, all individual tribulation is trifling.

Occasional reflection upon this great truth will do much to drive away the bad fairy and open the way out of despondency; but better yet is constant realization that one can do for either himself or others only that which lies within him to perform, and, having satisfied himself on that score, he possesses an inalienable right to disregard all possible consequences, and need give them no more consideration than a sagacious person accords idle speculation as to whether, when he awakes, he will find himself in heaven or in hell. Supplement knowledge of the recognized folly of regret with appreciation of the fact that worry is never over actual, but always over imaginary ills, and is therefore as unnecessary as it is unwise and inefficient, and a long step will be taken towards the definite elimination of the chief bane of mankind.

HAPPINESS FROM TROUBLES.

Being human, happily or unhappily, we cannot deny the comfort to be found in the reflection that misery never lacks the company it loves. We all have our troubles, and some of us derive much satisfaction from the contemplation of them. Indeed, there are those who are happy only when wretched; but these we believe to be as few in number as they are disagreeable in association; the vast majority of humans are normal, and disposed, therefore, in conformity with natural law, to smile when the skies are clear and to grieve under the portent of clouds. Hence the ease with which work takes possession of the mind, colors the disposition and makes a cripple of effort. That causes abound we know and must admit, as we do almost unconsciously the certainty of death; but too little cognizance is taken of the fact that the effect of mere apprehension, which is all that worry really is, may be subjected to simple mental treatment and be overcome.—George Harvey in the North American Review.

Among the objects found in recent excavations in Egypt was a whole company of wooden soldiers fifteen inches high.

According to figures presented to the institute of Electrical Engineers the net saving over steam by the use of electricity on the railroads of the United States averages $638 per mile, which if applied to the entire railroad system, would effect a saving of $138,500,000 per annum.

ARGUMENT IS POSTPONED.

Delay in Progress of Two-Cent Fare Case in Pennsylvania.

Philadelphia, Sept. 20.—Owing to the engagement of Attorney General Todd in connection with the prosecutions of the capitol fraud cases, the argument on the city's exceptions to the court's ruling in the Pennsylvania's railroad 2-cent rate which was to have been heard in common pleas court tomorrow, has been postponed until next Saturday. This delay precludes possibility of getting the matter before the supreme court and disposed of before Oct. 1, the date the new rate law becomes effective. In the meantime the officials of the Pennsylvania and Reading railroads continue reticent as to what action they will take on that date as to the adjustment of their passenger fare to the 2-cent basis other than that previously expressed, that there is no disposition to evade the law in the interim.

They will take with them their balloons Pommern and Abercron.

WHITCAPPING CASES.

Grand Jury Said to Be Investigating Them at Columbus.

Columbus, Ind., Sept. 20.—The Bartholomew county grand jury has made its first report and has returned five indictments. One is said to be against William Harrell, a blacksmith, who is charged with assault and battery with intent to kill, and another is reported to be a larceny charge against Thomas Brown, who is now in jail on a similar charge. The other three indictments are being kept secret. The jury is still in session and it is reliably reported that it is still considering the whitecapping matter.

THINGS SEEN AT THE FAIR

One has never really seen a county fair until he has "footed" the grounds over, from cattle show to the art, horticultural and poultry buildings. Only by such a survey as walking and observing does one get the real "atmosphere" of the fair and the bigger the crowd, naturally the more of the genuine article does one get.

A feeling of comradeship springs within the sightseer's breast in spite of himself. The power of example is felt. Before one knows it he becomes possessor of a bag of crackerjack or an ice cream cone, which is by no means taken home to the children. At any rate one will commit some indiscretion either in eating or in act, perhaps getting his fortune told by "Mrs. Madam Smith," as one sign reads, or having his picture "took" at "six for a quarter."

And it is the greatest of all Allen county fairs. There has never been such handsome exhibits by Fort Wayne merchants, nor so large a display of things made by women, from log cabin and knitted quilts to the daintiest of modern embroideries as is displayed at the fair this week. The art building is fairly running over with beautiful things. Naturally the collection is heterogeneous, though in spite of that the booths present much distinctive beauty. Local merchants have never made a better showing from the standpoint of good taste. It is well worth a visit to view the various displays from hardware and kitchen furnishings through the dining room and parlors even to the porch furniture. Women's gowns and hats are not omitted from the display, and beautiful examples of feminine apparel attract much admiration. Music from various pianos and pianola players mingles with the hum of voices. In the "art" booths there is enough to see to keep one busy for hours. Pastels, watercolor, oils and black and white drawings line the walls. It is a creditable exhibit. Every year there are fewer poor things and more good ones. Notable are drawings in color or charcoal of young students, those from home holding their own with work from Indianapolis and other cities of the state. As to subjects there is almost everything, fruit, vegetables, flowers, landscapes, ideal heads, still life, life drawings, and so on. On the other sides of the building are booths of fancy work. Work that our grandmothers made, patchwork quilts of the "crazy" patterns and in regular design, crocheted lace, knitted lace, rickrack, drawn work, Battenburg and more modern lace designs, all kinds of cushions and nearly all kinds of fancy work. Aprons of various styles, from work ones of gingham to the daintiest of soft linen material, handmade and embroidered, garments of underwear and children's clothing, with fine work in embroideries, solid, eyelet and various stitches, centerpieces in white and center pieces in color until to count them would make you dizzy, gives only a hint of what may be seen. The exhibit is varied, interesting and much of it of great beauty. A passing glance or a moment's visit, however, will not begin to give even a general idea of the work displayed.

In the horticultural building the exhibit is complete and until the heat began to affect the ripe fruit, was handsome. The exhibit has never been so large or arranged with such good taste. Fruits occupy tables in the center and above them are shelves crowded with ferns, plants and vases of flowers from the florists' houses. On one side of the room is the Canadian exhibit with its display of grains and vegetables from Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan. Jars of beet sugar made from Canadian beets, pumpkins and squashes do not attract the attention that the red wheat, barley and oats and the bunches of different grasses of the northern soil do, but the display is fine and the men who have it in charge lose no opportunity to sing the praises and offer the inducements of their country. The Allen county display gladdens the eyes of farmer and city man. Such fine looking examples of fruit, and an off season at that! Such beautiful corn, such smooth, small-eyed and white looking potatoes, such big red tomatoes, such "lovely" celery and cucumbers, egg plant, cauliflower, etc., etc., that fairly makes one's mouth water to look at, rows and rows of them with melons, pumpkins, squash, beets and cabbage that hobnob with bags of wheat, barley and other grains, each and all testifying to the fertility of Indiana's soil and the progressiveness of Allen county's farmers. Don't miss the horticultural building.

Near by is the poultry building and it was thronged with visitors all day yesterday, with men and women who were busy comparing notes of the kinds of poultry they had success in raising or the kind they are going to try. City people know what our poultry men can do by reason of visiting poultry shows every year, but the exhibit at the fair is a large and a fine one in ever way.

Out of doors is the farm machinery, while various vendors of everything that ever reaches a county fair make the air noisy with the crying of their exhibits.

ATTITUDE OF EUROPE IS BETTER.

Confidence In America Increases, Paul Morton Declares.

New York, Sept. 20.—Paul Morton, president of the Equitable Life Assurance society, returned from a European tour yesterday with glowing reports of the improvement in the attitude of Europe toward this country. Europeans even have begun to have confidence in American beef, he said, and as for American insurance, he declared, conditions were improved vastly.

"I have seen nothing on the other side to indicate that there is trouble ahead, either for us or for European countries," he said. "As long as the crops continue to be good America is bound to be prosperous.

"Everybody on the other side seems to be for Roosevelt, and all think he will be president for another four years. The various investigations in progress in this country are not attracting much attention in Europe, for the reason that there is nothing to induce foreign investment here; they have use for all their money at home."

One Piece Jacket for Fall.

One of the new fall designs in loose coats, that comes from Paris, is shown in this illustration. It is in one piece, double breasted, and without shoulder seams. The pattern for this wrap is cut in six sizes, from thirty-two to forty-two inches bust measure. To make such a jacket for the average person two and one-half yards of material thirty-four inches wide, or one and one-half yards fifty-four inches in width will be needed.

As this coat is made in one piece, all goods having a nap or up and down must me eliminated. Despite this limitation one still has a wide range of material from which to select for coatings. Cheviots and serges are suitable, but fur cloth will no doubt be the most popular fabric for this kind of garment. This is due to the fact that the material is now woven in so exact an imitation of certain furs that one must carefully examine the wrap to detect any difference. The weaves known as Persian lamb, astrachan and chinchilla are perhaps the closest imitations; and the woven chinchilla will be much more durable than the real fur.

A jacket of this style should be lined with a fancy silk. At this season of the year there are many remnant sales of high grade goods, and if one will only watch the advertisements, a handsome lining may often be had for little more than the cost of an ordinary cotton cloth. In making the lining should be cut from the coat pattern and blind stitched to the material at the edge. An interlining of light weight canvas, previously shrunk, will greatly improve the coat. The sleeves can be cut full length if preferred.

As this wrap may easily be made at home, even by the most inexperienced, it is sure to become a popular model. It is becoming to both stout and slender figures.

CITY BREVITIES.

Mrs. Eliza Schroeder, of 1220 Huestis avenue, is improving from her recent illness.

Ralph Todd, cashier of the Studebaker Bank, Bluffton, Ind., was a visitor in the city yesterday.

C. E. Hadsell, president of the American Improvement & Developing Co., has returned from a business trip to Grand Rapids.

Checked Cloth Walking Suit

Check street suits will be popular this fall made in plain tailor models like the illustration. Such a costume as this will be a particular favorite with college girls, because while it is plain and serviceable, the velvet trimming on cuffs and at the collar make it dressy enough for afternoon wear.

When North Gosforth church, near Newcastle, England, which had never been consecrated, but in which services had been held regularly, was put up at auction, not a bid was made for the property.

ROGERS HAS TRIFLE OF SOME $200,000,000 YET ON HAND

Report That He Has Lost Half of Big Fortune Declared Untrue.

New York, Sept. 20.—Wall street was startled yesterday by a story that Henry H. Rogers, vice president of the Standard Oil company, had been "stung" to the tune of $40,000,000 in his Virginia railroad project and that his breakdown was due primarily to worry over impending bankruptcy.

While the street was still pondering over the portentous news friends of Mr. Rogers ran about spreading the tidings that the story was made out of whole cloth, that Mr. Rogers was still the happy possessor of a little fortune of about $200,000,000, mostly in cash in the bank, and that finally, far from being a physical wreck from money worries, he had quite recovered from his recent indisposition and is feeling fine for an old man, thank you.

Half Fortune Gone, is Rumor.

Reports have been current in Wall street for some time that H. H. Rogers, of the Standard Oil company, has been heavily interested in the Tidewater railway project in Virginia and that he had lost heavily by the investment. According to the stories previously circulated, upwards of 40 per cent. of Mr. Rogers' fortune has been involved in the Tidewater investment. Today it was reported that the personal obligation incurred by Mr. Rogers amounted to at least $40,000,000.

The story that startled the financial district went on to say that to meet demands in connection with the construction of the Virginia railroad Mr. Rogers had been forced to sacrifice huge blocks of valuable stocks, such as Standard Oil, Consolidated Gas, Union Pacific and St. Paul.

That was the alarm and it was quickly answered by intimate friends of Mr. Rogers through these reassurring facts.

Mr. Rogers has invested about $30,000,000 in the Virginia railroad enterprise. At the outset it was expected to complete the work in about a year and a half. Mr. Rogers provided the bonds during the first year, and when additional sums were needed resorted to the $16,000,000 loan which was made last spring. C. M. Pratt and G. M. Hyams are interested with Mr. Rogers in the Tidewater enterprise.

Has $200,000,000 Left, However.

Regarding that part of the story suggesting that Mr. Rogers had been forced to part with some of his high priced investment stocks to provide funds called for by the railroad which he undertook to build, his friends declared it had no more foundation than the rumor that it was worry over the Tidewater undertaking which caused the breakdown in his health.

His friends admitted, however, that Mr. Rogers did sell large blocks of stocks at the high prices which prevailed some time ago. Among them was a large amount of St. Paul, which he is said to have sold practically at the highest price which that stock reached. His financial position, it was asserted, instead of being in any way uncomfortable is stronger today than ever in the past.

These friends who spoke for Mr. Rogers said that his fortune today could not be reckoned at less than $200,000,000, and that a large share of it was cash, as a result of the sales of securities which he made before the recent collapse in prices began.

Morgans Deny One Rogers Story.

J. P. Morgan & Co. addedt o the rehabilitation of Mr. Rogers as a financial power by issuing a formal denial of a report that the firm had taken over from Kuhn, Loeb & Co. a large block of Union Pacific stock which the latter had held for the account of H. H. Rogers. The amount of Union Pacific involved in the rumored transaction was variously stated from $6,000,000 to $60,000,000.

Mr. Rogers' big plunge into the railroad business was taken about five years ago, when he started to build in West Virginia a low grade road which would parallel the Norfolk and Western. His object was to carry coal and lumber to tidewater. The line was to be 444 miles long. Only 125 miles have been completed.

Railway officials, who have watched the construction of the road with intense interest from the beginning, say that the project, even at this stage, is more or less problematic. It is confidently believed, however, that Rogers will gain his end and see the mileage completed.

It was learned some months ago that the Standard Oil man and his associates had bought up all the available lumber and coal lands in West Virginia. These purchases amounted to thousands of acres and will in some future time supply the Tidewater road with traffic.

ROGERS ALMOST WELL NOW.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 20.—Dr. Charles A. Pratt, of this city, who has been paying visits to Henry H. Rogers at his summer home in Fairhaven, now considers Mr. Rogers so much improved that he has ceased altogether his calls upon the oil magnate. Dr. Pratt says Mr. Rogers looks immeasurably better now than he did after his nervous stroke in New York and that if he continues to rest as he does now there will be no reason for apprehension as to his condition.

Mr. Rogers has been taking quiet exercise each day with Indian clubs, and each morning after breakfast he takes a stroll about his estate.

It is practically certain, however, that Mr. Rogers never will resume his position at the head of the oil trust.

BIBLE STUDENT'S ASSOCIATION

The regular weekly meeting of the Bible Student's association will be held Monday evening at 7:45 p. m. at the First Baptist church. Dr. Frank N. Palmer, of Winona lake, will be present to lead in the evening's study. Students are requested to prepare Bible lesson No. 1 and training lesson No. 1 in the Old Testament booklet of Hammill's course. The second part of the evening's study will consist of a brief review of the life of Moses, and a brief study of the Book of Deuteronomy. Read carefully the first four chapter of Exodus and the first four chapters of Deuteronomy. These two studies will be for the review lesson of September 29. The leader desires on Monday evening to pass to every teacher present question slips on the lesson for October 6 in sufficient numbers so that one may be given to each scholar on September 29. These questions will be worked out by the scholars during the week and form the basis of the recitation on October 6. It will furnish a test of the "assignment plan" in the study of the Sunday school lessons. So a most earnest invitation is extended to every Sunday school teacher in Fort Wayne to be present and try faithfully this "search" plan of interesting both young and old in the study of God's book.

Dr. Palmer requests that every pastor and Sunday school superintendent in the city be present next Monday evening if possible.

BLIND TIGERS RAIDED.

Two Men Arrested and Much Strong Drink Confiscated.

Delphia, Ind., Sept. 20.—A sensation was sprung in Ockley, a small town six miles south of here yesterday afternoon, when Sheriff Pullen, Deputy Sheriff McCain, City Marshal Hubbard, night watchman Scallon and special officer Carrigan raided two "blind tigers," which were operated by Elliott Pearson and Joseph Hannel.

No resistance was offered by the proprietors, and, although no intimation was given to the citizens of Ockley that a raid was imminent, within a short time the whole town was congregated in front of the scene. Beer, whisky and gin, to the amount of about 500 quarts, were confiscated and brought to this city, where it is being held pending an order from the court for its disposition.

Hannel and Pearson were not placed in jail, but promised to appear in court for their preliminary hearing this afternoon. Hannel formerly conducted a saloon at Ockley, but was put out of business last January by a blanket remonstrance. Carroll county has had a saloon fight for a long time, and the people of Ockley have put forth every effort to help.

STONE NOT LIKELY TO BE 1907 CHAMPION BATTER

GEORGE STONE'S POSITION AT BAT.

If there is one baseball player who is thoroughly put out because of his luck this season it is Stone, the St. Louis outfielder, who led the American league in batting last year, and who probably will not lead it in batting this year. Stone slumped frightfully at the beginning of the present season. For a championship batter he has the most awkward position at the plate of any big league leader in years.

REDS POUND FRASER HARD.

Cincinnati Takes Game From the National Leaders.

Cincinnati, Sept. 20.—Chick Fraser went into the seventh inning of the game against Cincinnati with one lone bingle charged against him and he had a roseate dream of a one-hit affair to his credit but in the seventh inning things began to happen to him with such regularity that his roseate was fractured in a dozen places. In the first place his fellow champs got mixed behind him and some bad judgment and an error or two opened up the trouble, then came two singles and a triple and the six runs that the Reds secured came as the net result. NAPOLEONS MUST SETTLE FOR ROWDY TACTICS AT DETROIT

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Rowdy ball in the American league received a setback today when President B. B. Johnson of the league notified the Cleveland club that it had been assessed $300 for the tactics of the Naps at Detroit last Friday. After hearing from Secretary Nevin of the Detroit club and Umpires Hurst and Connolly, Johnson levied the tax.

"I am satisfied that the Naps acted in a disgraceful manner," said President Johnson yesterday. "The American league has never stood for rowdy tactics on the field and it will not begin at this late date. It is true that the Cleveland men did no try to assault anybody or create a 'rough house,' but their tactics in obviously delaying the game, which was apparently lost to them, deserve punishment. I did not take action until I had fully investigated the matter, and when I had made certain of the exact status there was nothing else left for me to do but fine them.

"The blame could not be laid on any one individual, but it seems that almost the entire team tried tactics which cannot be tolerated in baseball. Had Lajoie himself enforced discipline the game would undoubtedly have been played in orderly fashion, but it seems that he himself was one of the ringleaders."

President Johnson will go east for a swing around the circle. He will visit every club along the Atlantic coast before he returns, but he did not think it would take him more than a week to look after the business in hand.

President Johnson received an invitation from the home-coming association at Baltimore to be among those present October 14, when large doings are to be pulled off in the oriole stronghold. A reunion of the players who made Baltimore famous in 1894, 1895, and 1896 by landing the National league pennant is scheduled. The committee has arranged to have the following veterans in the line-up for the former pennant winners: McMahon, Hoffer, Hemming and Mullane, pitchers; Robinson and Clarke, catchers; Doyle and Brouthers, first base; Reitz and Gleason, second base; Jennings, shortstop; McGraw, third base; John Kelley, Brodie and Keeler, outfield. The present Baltimore Eastern league team will try to down the old-timers.

LEYDON HAS RINK AND TEAM.

Old Fort Wayne Favorite Will Remain in the East.

Billy Leydon, one of the most popular members of the Fort Wayne polo team when the city was in the Central league, has opened a rink at Bath, Me., and on the opening night put on a polo game in which he and Nick McGilvray and a few local players warred against Lewiston. Leydon had a number of offers to come west where he is personally very popular aside from being a good player but he had turned down the offer and with Mrs. Leydon will stay at home in Bath and run his rink.

KENTUCKY TODD TIES A WORLD'S RECORD AT COLUMBUS

Took First Heat of Futurity at Fast Clip—Race Summaries.

Columbus, O., Sept. 20.—Kentucky Todd, holder of the world's record for 3-year-old trotting stallions, tied the world's record for 3-year-olds of all sexes in the first heat of the Kentucky Stock Farm Futurity in 2:8¾. In 1892, at Louisville, Fantasy did a mile in the same time.

The colt was a first choice in the betting, although General Watts (2:09¼) had a liberal following. The later colt, drawing the pole, led to the first half post in 1:02½. Kentucky Todd was fourth there, but Stinson soon began his drive, and his sensational colt moved up even with the leaders in the next eighth. He was an easy leader all down the stretch and won jogging.

Bettie Brent was not extended to win the pacing division of the Futurity. Nuckols, her driver, won the same event a year ago with Brenda York.

Hal R. took a record of 2:07¼ in winning the final heat of the 2:09 pace, which was begun on Tuesday.

Ward M. and Idora went into the 2:10 list by taking heats in the 2:17 trot, but the race was won by Kenneth Mac, an outsider in the betting. He got the fourth heat when Idora broke in the stretch, and the fifth by a neck from Ward M.

Suspension for thirty days was the penalty placed by the judges upon Amos Rathbun, driver of Ward M., for laying up his horse in the fourth heat.

George G. had to step in 2:06¼ in the 2:05 trot to keep ahead of Main Sheet in the first heat. The second heat was not so hard for the McDonald entry, the favored one.

Angus Pointer is picked to win the free for all pace. Gallagher took the one heat decided away from Argot Boy and Baron Gratian in quite slow time, but with an exciting finish, the three coming lapped, with Angus Pointer two lengths behind.

GARRETT NEWS.

Phone 199 W. for the Sentinel.)

(Special Correspondence of The Sentinel.)

Garrett, Ind., Sept. 20.—In the preliminary trial of the Baker arson cases tried before Justice of the Peace Beehler yesterday afternoon and even-Beehler yesterday afternoon and evening, the evidence being purely circumstantial although it was very conflicting, the state was unable to prove the charge of arson against them. There was evidence introduced that showed they had purchased kerosene at two different places. Evidence was submitted showing that he was not in his room at the breaking out of the fire, which was 3 a. m. The entire afternoon and evening was taken up in the introduction of the evidence and summing up of the evidence and the pleas, at the close of which Justice Beehler gave his decision which resulted in the releasing of the younger Baker. Prosecutor Smith then dismissed the case against Baker, sr. Attorney Sharpless defended the cases. This closes the cases unless the grand jury should take them up.

At the meeting of the pioneers of Garrett and Keyser townships held yesterday in the Baptist church the following well known men were elected for the ensuing year: President, Dr. J. F. Thomson; vice president, W. J. Frederick; secretary, Ray Satterfield; treasurer, H. W. Thomas. The next reunion will be held in August, 1908. H. W. Thomas delivered the address of welcome.

Harry W. Caldwell, a former well known resident and an old veteran of the civil war, was stricken with paralysis at his home in Kendallville yesterday morning at 9 o'clock and at 10 a. m. was dead. The death of Mr. Caldwell came as a surprise to everybody. He had just come over on Wednesday to see Mr. Frederick, the coal dealer, on business and was intending to return to attend the old settlers' meeting when he was stricken. Mrs. Caldwell was visiting with Mr. and Mrs. O. Stover, her daughter-in-law. Accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. O. Stover and Messrs. C. M. Haeferstay and C. K. Lantz they returned to Kendallville on the noon car. Mr. Caldwell's age was 67 years, 3 months and 25 days and he was born in the state of New Jersey in 1840, coming to Indiana just before the breaking out of the civil war and at the opening of hostilities enlisted in the Eighteenth Indiana battery. Serving through the war he was in several notable engagements. Mr. Caldwell was nightwatch of Garrett for about twenty years and was always known as "Hello, Harry," but never forgetting to do his duty. Mr. Caldwell was popular with all who knew him. He was a man of great strength of character. He was a member of Charles Case post No. 233, G. A. R., of Garrett. The remains will be brought to Garrett tomorrow morning, being brought overland with a short service held at the home on Vine street. The funeral will be held at the M. E. church, conducted by Dr. P. E. Powell, with interment in the North cemetery.

The Holy Grail will go to Wolf lake tomorrow to institute a castle at the M. E. church. They will go to Albion then drive overland to Wolf lake, via the hay wagon route. The boys will return on No. 6 in the evening.

The condition of Dan Goodenough, who was injured a few days ago at the B. & O. shops is still progressing nicely but he is still very sore.

Willie Winson is laying off at the B. & O. paint shop, attending the fair in Fort Wayne.

The T. & C. is taxed to its utmost capacity today owing to this being Garrett and Auburn day at the Fort Wayne fair. Every car leaving the city has been packed from end to end.

Frank McNabb, of Denver, Col., who came home to attend the funeral of his brother, is very ill at the home of his parents with mountain fever. He was unable to attend the funeral of his brother.

The 10-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Swinehart, on Cowen street, is very ill with whooping cough.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dolan and Miss Anna Crimmins, of Chicago, who have been visiting with friends in this city, are spending the day at the Fort Wayne fair.

WOMAN LOST IN CANYON.

Member of Longworth's Party Misses Way; Found Almost Frozen.

Grand Canyon, Ariz. Sept. 20.—Mrs. Frank Joy, wife of the recorder of deeds at St. Louis, had a narrow escape Wednesday from death from exposure in the great woods along the canyon.

Mrs. Joy and her husband are members of Congressman Nicholas Longworth's party now touring the picturesque canyon region of Arizona. Late Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Joy started for a stroll in the woods and becoming confused in regard to directions was unable to find her way back.

The Joys and Longworths were to have dined together at 7 o'clock, and when Mrs. Joy did not return the alarm was given by sounding the whistle of the big power plant and searching parties were soon scouring the woods in every direction. About 9 o'clock a party headed by Manager Fleming of the Harvey Livery and made up of Navajo Indians, found the woman, exhausted and almost frozen, in the Long Jim Canyon ten miles away.

The party returned to Grand Canyon a little before midnight. Mr. Joy had been searching with a party in another direction and did not learn of his wife's rescue until several hours after her return. The Longworths left here yesterday for the east.

MRS. DOLBY'S "CALL"

Deacon's Wife Is Summoned by the Angel Gabriel.

DEACON ISN'T INTERESTED.

Eloquence of Mining Promoter Mightier Than a Woman's Tongue—Hired Man a Nature Fakir—Dolby Learns That Elephants Have No Wings.

[Copyright, 1907, by M. M. Cunningham.]

Deacon Dolby had gone down to the postoffice after supper, and as he left the house Mrs. Dolby was singing a hymn at the top of her voice and doing up the dishes. When he returned, an hour later, he found her stretched on a lounge in the sitting room and evidently at death's door. He didn't ask any questions or betray any interest, however. The same thing had occurred about a thousand times during the past ten years. He had received a circular at the postoffice, and now he sat down and took his shoes off and began to look it over. It was from a copper mining company. He had got as far as to see that when Mrs. Dolby spoke up and said:

"Samuel, don't you want to know what's the matter with me?"

The deacon lifted his right foot upon his left knee and scratched his heel and seemed not to hear.

"The matter is that I am stricken with death," continued Mrs. Dolby as she wondered whether she looked pale or not—pale enough for the occasion. "Yes, Samuel, I have got my summons to go, and you won't be bothered with me for a few hours longer. By midnight you will be free to marry again, and my spirit will be playing on a golden harp. I didn't want to go until I had done up twenty jars of strawberries, but when we are called we can't hold back. Do you think you'll miss me when I'm gone?"

The mining circular announced that the Honest Joe claim, which was one of the five claims situated over the celebrated Jim Crow copper vein, had bored deep enough to ascertain that the said vein was fourteen miles thick by two broad and that it was estimated that fourteen hundred million tons of copper were lying there ready to be snaked out and sent to market. Deacon Dolby was taking it all in and did not answer his wife's question. Whether she expected it to be answered or not, she continued:

"When you started for the postoffice, Samuel, I was singing away as happy as a lark and expected to live for twenty years yet. Then Mrs. Edwards came over to borrow my four pound lard pail. She was in an awful hurry, but she sat down and said she thought it her duty to tell me something. She didn't want to make any family trouble, but she thought I hadn't ought to go on living in ignorance of certain things. Samuel, two weeks ago you went over to Liverpool. You said you went to see a five legged calf. When you got back you told me just how that fifth leg was hitched on, and you looked so innocent that but for Mrs. Edwards I should have gone to my grave without suspecting anything. Samuel, your sins have found you out. There was a circus in Liverpool that day. You went over to see the circus. You were one of the first ones in and one of the last ones out. U-m-m-m! If anybody had told me that I would live to see this day, I wouldn't have believed it. Deacon Dolby at a circus!

Tears and sobs came at this juncture, and the deacon seemed a little uneasy. But for the circular he might have asserted that he went to the circus simply to see the hyenas, but the paper interested him. The shares in the Honest Joe were $100 each, but that the widows and orphans and ministers and deacons of the country might participate in a good thing they had been cut to $5 each for a short time. The president of the company, who was a noble man and could not lie, assured all stockholders of 100 per cent dividends at the end of a year. One cent down and a cent a month would buy ten shares right off the reel.

"Yes, went to a circus," said Mrs. Dolby after a breathless silence lasting five minutes—"went to a circus and laughed as loud as anybody and bought lemonade and peanuts! You were seen there. You were seen to laugh and snort at the clowns' jokes. You were seen to look with your mouth wide open when the circus women were riding horseback on one leg. You did all these things, Samuel, and then came back to your poor wife and innocent home and sat down and told about a five legged calf! It's a good thing I've got my summons to go. I never could have lived after finding out what sort of a man you were. Samuel, do you deny going to the circus? It's just possible that people took some one else for you. Do you want to hold my hand and deny it?"

Mr. Dolby put down his right foot and elevated his left. But for the circular he might have filed a general denial. He had attended the circus, but only to see the elephants. A hired man had once contended that they had wings and feathers, and he wanted to see for himself. The circular went on to say that the Honest Joe mine was no swindle and to advise the public to beware of all other copper mines. They were simply holes in the ground for the innocent and unwary to fall into. He had just decided to sell a cow and invest when Mrs. Dolby said:

"Mrs. Edwards said she couldn't stay another minute after telling that you were seen at the circus, but I wouldn't let her go. I told her that I was a dying woman and that she must tell me all. Then she said that you and a lot more men were at Snyder's grocery a few nights ago and Snyder passed around a pail of hard cider. You know what hard cider is, Samuel. You know how oily and deceiving it is. You know that it's stronger than beer and that every deacon in the country turns his back on it. Did you? Not at all! You were one of the first to drink, and they say you guzzled it down like so much buttermilk. It wasn't ten minutes afterward when you were uttering warwhoops and saying you could lick any man in this town. When you came home that night I thought there was something wrong with you. Your eyes looked funny, and your tongue seemed too thick, but I didn't ask any questions. I thought your brother out in Indiana might be dead and that you had got a letter and was feeling bad. Samuel, tell me that you didn't drink as much as two quarts of that old cider. Tell me you didn't whoop and want to fight. I don't want to die thinking you have turned pirate in your old age."

It was a strong appeal. It was one that made the deacon smack his lips, but he heeded it not. That circular was taking up all his attention. The president of the Honest Joe mine had figured out that a man with $10,000 worth of stock would clear more hard cash in one year in dividends than the owner of 500 acres of cabbages could in ten. He had almost decided on selling a second cow when Mrs. Dolby was heard from again.

"When Mrs. Edwards had told me about the hard cider, I thought I should die on the spot, but I held on to myself and says, says I:

"'Is there anything else?'

"'There is,' says she.

"'Then tell it before I go.'

"'Can you stand it?'

"'I'll try to.'

"And then, Samuel, she told me the worst of all. She said that there was a fakir in town the other day selling something in bottles to prolong human life by twenty years. It was 50 cents a bottle, and she don't believe it was anything more than peppermint essence, but up you walks and lays down a dollar for two bottles and says to Mr. Jones, who was there, that you proposed to outlive your old woman by forty years. I've smelt the peppermint on you ever since, but you've claimed that you put some in a holler tooth. Samuel, look me in the eye and tell me whether Mrs. Edwards lied or not. I want to know before I leave this world of tears."

Mr. Dolby didn't turn and look her in the eye. He didn't even turn enough for her to observe that he was blushing. The president of the Honest Joe was winding up his circular by admonishing his readers to write him that day, that evening, that hour, before those fourteen hundred million tons of copper could turn into Chicago embalmed beef, and he was mentally figuring on what price he could get for his two cows and horse.

"You didn't refer to me as Mrs. Dolby or your wife or Rachel," sobbed the woman on the lounge, "but as 'the old woman!' You didn't care how soon I died, but you wanted to live forty years after me! I asked you for 10 cents that day, and you couldn't spare it, and yet you walk up and lay down a dollar for the life prolonger! Oh, deacon"—

But it ended there. A neighbor came in to borrow coffee for breakfast, and Mrs. Dolby rolled off the lounge and ran to get it, and when the deacon got ready to wind the clock she was saying to the other woman that her health was never better and that she wished all people had as happy a home as she had. Extends Injunction Restraining North Carolina From Prosecuting.

Raleigh, S. C., Sept. 20.—Judge Peter C. Pritchard, in the United States circuit court, in the suit of the Southern railway against the state, yesterday continued the injunction, restraining the officials from prosecuting their penalty suits in the state superior courts against the Southern and the North Carolina Railway company. The North Carolina railroad is 300 miles in length and is owned by the state. The road is under lease to the Southern, under a ninety-nine-year contract.

An Englishman in Scotland was abusing the country, complaining of the state of the larder, and wondering if there were a spot where he could get less to eat. "I could tell ye a place whaur ye wad get less," said a Scot who was listening to the tirade. "Where's that?" asked the other. "Oh, just whaur an Englishman's been!" said the Scotsman, dryly.

The Best on the Market.

For many years Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has constantly gained in favor and popularity until it is now one of the most staple medicines in use and has an enormous sale. It is intended especially for acute throat and lung diseases, such as coughs, colds and croup, and can always be depended upon. It is pleasant and safe to take and is undoubtedly the best in the market for the purpose for which it is intended. Sold by all druggists.

One of the great industries of India is that of coal mining. At the end of 1885 the average annual output for the previous decade was only 1,227,197 tons; in the next decade the average had risen to 2,758,640 tons, and in that ending with 1905 it was 7,626,592 tons. The production for 1906 was 9,784,250 tons. Most of the coal mines are in the province of Bengal, which last year contributed 88 per cent of the total output.

Lame Back.

This is an ailment for which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has proven especially valuable. In almost every instance it affords prompt and permanent relief. Mr. Luke LaGrange, of Orange, Mich., says of it: "After using a plaster and other remedies for three weeks for a bad lame back, I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and two applications effected a cure." SWEPT FROM A TROLLEY CAR.

New York, Sept. 20.—Louis Gumbrich, aged 16 years, and Charles Bach, 18, were climbing to the wrong side of a crowded inbound Coney Island trolley car last night and when the conductor, George S. Sibel stepped on the same running board to warn them, a passing car swept all three from their feet. Bach was killed, Gumbrich's skull was fractured and he was probably fatally injured, while Sibel sustained internal injuries.

Patterson-Fletcher Co. are selling Hart, Schaffner & Marx pure wool, hand-tailored fall suits at $15.00.

HER REASON.

She always met my ardent looks
With ill concealed disdain
And wouldn't share my cab when caught
One morning in the rain.
But all at once her freezing air
Dissolved in sunny smiles.
She danced with me and drove with me
And spread for me her wiles.

My locks may be a trifle thin,
My mustache slightly gray,
But still my heart is twenty-one,
Romantic, light and gay.
She pinned a rosebud in my coat
(I keep it, dry and brown).
And I began to think I ought
To wed and settle down.

On operas, dinners, books and flowers
My money dwindled fast
Until that calculating maid
Unclosed my eyes at last.
"It's been so good of you," she said,
"To entertain me, when,
Since I have been engaged, I can't Go out with younger men."
—Minna Irving in Lippincott's.

Kissing is the only real impediment of the speech.

No man expects anybody else to believe half the bad he tells about himself.

A woman would never be as happy if she thought her husband took as good care of himself when she was away.

Fortune may knock at every man's door, but he goes around first to the ones that have "at home" notices hung out.

A man may really expect to be an angel and have wings, but he doesn't spend near as much time as his wife thinking how nice it will be.—New York Press.

PREPARED FOR TROUBLE AT THE VATICAN ON ANNIVERSARY

Thirty-Seven Years Since Italian Troops Occupied Rome.

Rome, Sept. 20.—This being the 37th anniversary of the occupation of Rome by the Italian troops and the fall of the temporal power of the papacy, all the armed men in the vatican were detailed to watch the entrances of the apostolic palace, or to patrol the garden and court yards, considerable anxiety being felt regarding the possibility of hostile demonstrations, in view of the recent displays of anti-Catholic feeling.

Cardinal Merry del Val, the papal secretary of state who is at Castel Gandolfo, is in frequent telephonic communication with the vatican, informing the pope of the situation in various parts of Italy. The government, in order to prevent the possibility of outrages, has caused the vatican to be guarded night and day by troops.

FORTY PERSONS KILLED IN RAIL WRECK IN MEXICO

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 20.—Late advices show that forty persons were killed and thirty-four injured in the collision between the southbound El Paso express and a northbound freight on the Mexican Central railroad yesterday at Encarnacion de Dios, fifty kilometres south of Agus Calentes. All the killed and injured, except Engineer McFarland, of the passenger train, are Mexicans, who were returning home from national fiestas. The trains met on a curve.

The freight crew who are charged with having disregarded orders, has disappeared.

John Blondin, nephew of his namesake who walked a rope over Niagara Falls, several years ago, while working on the roof of the Centennial hotel, fell a distance of some twenty feet, onto a pile of brick. How he escaped with but a few bruises is nothing short of miraculous, but such is the case. The latest report was that he is resting easy.

NEW UNIFORM BILL OF LADING WILL BE URGED

Business Organizations to Discuss Means of Avoiding Losses.

New York, Sept. 20.—Various representative business organizations of the country will have delegates present at the conference on the proposed new uniform bill of lading to be held in Atlantic City on Monday next. The object of this conference is to discuss the best form for a nationally uniform bill of lading in order to prevent the losses occasioned to bankers and other business men through lending money on or receipting for merchandise shipped with a defective lading bill.

George W. Neville, chairman of the bill of lading committee of the New York cotton exchange, said today that heretofore business has been done with all agricultural products as well as a majority of manufactures on the integrity of bills of lading and on the assumption that the railroads were responsible for such bills when signed by their agents.

Cause of Much Concern.

The investigations conducted by the bill of lading commission of the American Bankers' association and the decisions of the various state courts published in the report of this commission have caused a great deal of concern among merchants. The importers of cotton in Liverpool, Bremen and Havre, and the foreign bankers who buy the exchange which facilitates the handling of the American crops held a meeting in Liverpool recently and vigorous protests were forwarded to the New York cotton exchange by the Liverpool Cotton association against the methods in use by railroads and steamship agents in this country in signing bills of lading.

With a view of settling the differences existing between the shipper and the railroad company regarding the conditions of bills of lading, the interstate commerce commission in a semi-official way authorized the carriers' association and the shippers' association to formulate a bill of lading which should be used as a model for all carriers in the United States to adopt.

Proposed Bill Not Satisfactory.

This bill of lading will be submitted to the interstate commerce commission on Oct. 15. While it is an improvement over that now in use it by no means gives protection to the innocent third party who buys the bill of lading when he pays a draft with bill of lading attached, and as the bill of lading commission of the bankers' association has put in a substitute for the joint committee, the commercial exchanges of this city and the south are preparing to be represented at the meeting in Washington on Oct. 15 and request that the uniform bill of lading be so drafted as to give absolute protection to the innocent thir party, viz: the purchaser of the goods covered by the bill of lading.

EAST CHICAGO ENJOINED.

Jealous Indiana Harbor Opposes Building New City Hall.

Hammond, Ind., Sept. 20.—The rivalry between Indiana Harbor and East Chicago culminated last evening in an injunction suit filed the Lake circuit court at Crownpoint, asking that the city of East Chicago be restrained from awarding a contract for a new city hall to cost $65,000. The East Chicago city council recently decided to build a much-needed city hall, and, as it outnumbered the councilmen representing Indiana Harbor, which is a part of East Chicago, a bitter feeling was aroused on the part of Indiana Harbor business men, who want the new city hall to be built at the harbor. It is alleged in the petition for a restraining order that East Chicago now has an indebtedness of $97,000 over and above the constitutional limit of indebtedness, and that the building of the city hall will plunge the municipality still more deeply in debt. A temporary restraining order was issued.

LOSES HIS MONEY AND MEMORY.

Texan, Supposed to Have Been Robbed in Chicago, Found in the East.

Manchester, N. H., Sept. 20.—Alexander Stanton, a wealthy Texas rancher, who claims to be a nephew of Lincoln's war secretary, was found wandering about Nashua yesterday, his memory and his money gone. When brought here he could not remember his name, but said he knew Rev. N. L. Colby. The minister identified him, and when he spoke Stanton's name the man's memory returned. Stanton said he had sold a shipment of cattle in Chicago September 2, and the last thing he remembered was getting the money, several thousand dollars, and starting out into the street. An old cut on the back of his head showed that he had been slugged.

John Suelzer, of this city, who has the contract for the erection of the handsome county memorial building at Lima, O., is pushing the work rapidly. The excavation has been completed, the footings are in and workmen are hurrying forward the foundation walls.

BEEF TRUST BARONS MAY BE FACING PRISON

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Government officials have turned their searchlight on the beef trust and an investigation has been commenced for the purpose of prosecuting the packers composing the $500,000,000 trust for having violated the Sherman law in making the vast merger that brought the big concerns of the country together.

It is the present purpose of the government to bring witnesses before a special grand jury that was yesterday called for Oct. 1 and examine them as to the formation of the existing alliance. It is charged that the combination comprises the biggest trust in the country, its ramifications being now charged to exceed those of the steel trust. Whether the investigation will include the supposed ownership by the packers of the leather trust is not known, but strong intimation is made that the entire connection of the "Jungle" syndicate will be placed under the microscope of United States District Attorney Edwin W. Sims.

It is alleged that the institutions under investigation include the Armour, Swift, Cudahy, Hammond, Morris, National Packing and Schwarzschild & Sulzberger companies, the understanding being that the National Packing company is the holding company or that it stands in the same relation to the combination that the holding companies of other trusts maintain. The "S. & S." company is under the light because of the allegation that Vice President Joseph's holding became a part of the new trust. Three forms of prosecution are under consideration, and these results may come from the inquiry:

The indictment of eight or more corporations under the Sherman law for conspiracy in restraint of trade, with a possible fine of $5,000 for each offense.

The indictment of the individuals interested in the merger, carrying with it the possibility of both fine and one year in prison.

The institution of civil suit to dissolve the trust.

In addition to these forms of procedure the government has in view the practicability of citing the principals in the industry for contempt of court in violating an injunction issued by Judge Grosscup restraining the packers from violations of the law. Under this last idea it will be possible for the court to impose jail sentences upon a number of the most prominent men in Chicago.

The news of the proposed fight of the packers leaked from the federal building just after Attorney General Charles J. Bonaparte had taken his leave of the city. District Attorney Sims very promptly closed all avenues to information as soon as he was told that the big investigation had become known. He declined to make any statement as to the plans of the government, but carefully refrained from making any denial of the facts.

Holds Information in Reserve.

There came the sensational information that the government had long possessed a line of information that was not placed before the courts in the packers' prosecution of two years ago. This information was alleged to have been gathered by a representative of the department of commerce and labor, but for some reason was never used. Some unkind persons intimated that the information had been secured about the time when national politics held the center of the stage and that there were strong political reasons for its not having then been made the basis for prosecutions.

In addition to this it was learned that the attitude of Ferdinand Sulzberger, managing head of the Schwarzschild & Sulzberger plant, had made the government's task of pursuing its present investigation comparatively easy. Through Mr. Sulzberger's defiance of the trust in its efforts to control his concern the government has been given an opportunity for learning speedily just how the trust was formed, how it financed its merger and how it made an effort to drive Mr. Sulzberger from his cherished institution and take over its control.

ROOSEVELT TO HUNT B'AR DOWN IN THE CANEBRAKE

Arrangements Made for a Pleasant Time in Wilds of Mississippi.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 20.—John M. Parker who will be one of President Roosevelt's hosts during his campaign and hunting expedition in Southern Louisiana next month arrived here today from Mississippi.

Holt Collier, a famous Confederate negro scout, freedman and hunter, will act as guide for the president's party. Collier is noted especially as a bear hunter, and was in charge of President Roosevelt's hunting party in Mississippi a few years ago.

Although the itinerary of the expedition is not arranged, it is known that the president will be offered opportunities to hunt in Louisiana canebrakes, where, as far as known, no human being has ever made a permanent habitation and where the sport, in some respects, is quite out of the ordinary. The cane grows to a height of ten to fifteen feet and at this time of year is blown into long wind-rows, leaving some open alleys between. It is necessary to cut trails across these wind-rows for the passage of the dogs.

Teh hunting will probably be done entirely on horseback. In order to proceed quickly through thickets each huntsman will carry a double edged knife with a straight blade nearly a foot long and heavy enough to chop a passage through obstructing growths. Trailing vines are the principal obstacles for which the knives are used.

In addition to hear and boar occasionally a few panthers and wolves are shot in the cane-brakes.

PLEADED ALL NIGHT IN VAIN.

Woman in New York Kills Self When Denied Admission to House.

New York, Sept. 20.—After pleading in vain throughout all of last night to be permitted to see John J. White, a wealthy man at whose house she had called, Mrs. Margaret Carter shot and killed herself today. She died in a room adjoining that in which White was in bed, and according to his attendants, very ill.

SUES FOR A CLAIM DATING BEFORE THE WAR

Wabash Railway Defendant in Suit Where $750,000 is the Demand.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 20.—A suit for about $750,000 principal and interest is on trial before Federal Judge R. W. Taylor here in which James Compton, of Washington D. C., is plaintiff in an action against the Wabash railroad company. Compton alleges that prior to the civil war he bought a claim against what is now a part of the Wabash and he sues for the claim with accrued interest, covering a period of half a century. Judson Harmon, of Cincinnati, attorney general in Cleveland's cabinet, appears as counsel for Compton in the case.

The Wabash through all the years of litigation, maintains that it has paid six per cent interest on two mortgages given years ago and has no cash with which to settle the claim of Compton, who is now nearing 75 years of age.

CHARTERING STATE BANKS.

Ruling by Attorney General As to Old Institutions.

Indianapolis, Sept. 20.—In case the charter of a state bank expires it cannot be renewed under the constitution. However, if the affairs of the old institution are wound up immediately upon the expiration of the charter of the bank a new corporation may be chartered, with exactly the same name as that of the bank whose charter expired. Such is the opinion of the attorney general.

CONFIDING SILAS NOW SEEKS MAN WITH HIS CASH

Corson Handed Up $25 to Supposed Officer for Safe-Keeping.

When a man who gave his name as Silas Corson, of Decatur, appealed to Patrolman Robert Dickson today to assist him in finding a supposed officer to whom he had confidingly given his roll of money for safe-keeping last night, it developed that Mr. Corson had been the victim of a confidence game which cost him just $25 and left him stranded in a strange city in the midst of fair festivities.

It appears that while Mr. Corson was mingling with the fair visitors on the streets last evening he scraped up an acquaintance with two men who, learning that the Decatur man had $25, took a deep interest in his financial welfare. They advised him that it is dangerous to carry wealth in a large crowd, and that the proper thing to do in the circumstances would be to deposit the money with a policeman for safe-keeping until morning. There appeared to be no policeman at hand, and his new found friends promptly volunteered to find one speedily. In an incredibly short time they presented before him a fine-appearing man of soldierly bearing and introduced him as a policeman, though Mr. Corson has a dim recollection that the officer was not in uniform.

A little thing like that was not to stand in the way of preserving wealth from the clutches of pickpockets, however, and Silas handed over his cash with the understanding that he was to meet the "officer" on the transfer corner this morning and regain possession of his roll. Then Silas went to bed. This morning he started a search for the obliging friends of the night before, as well as for the "policeman," but neither had been found up to a late hour this afternoon, though the Decatur man insists that he had one faint, fleeting glimpse of his solicitous friend through the crowd early today. The solicitous friend, however, had moved on before Corson could reach his side.

(Send your items to Geo. Helwig.)

Kendallville, Ind., Sept. 20.—Yesterday morning there was a body of men that marched up town from the T. & C. interurban to take the Lake Shore train, No. 15, which was two hours off schedule, to Ligonier, where the Thirtieth Indiana are holding their reunion. In the party was Comrade Toomey, who rescued Col. Sion S. Bass, who was in command of the Thirtieth at the battle of Shiloh. Mr. Toomey carried the colonel back from the scene of hostilities. Although being severely injured he lived a week and Mr. Toomey has a life-long position with the Bass works in Fort Wayne. Mrs. Toomey never tires of attending reunions with her husband. Mr. Toomey is 76 years old and has a ready wit that keeps one in a jolly mood all the time while in conversation with him.

C. S. Stafford, of Auburn, and Ransom Allen, of Ossian, are attending the reunion. The old flag, which is kept by Comrade Wilber, of New Haven, is highly reverenced and under which 129 men fell at Shiloh.

Clyde Fraser, who will leave the employ of the Northe Hardware Co., successors of Mr. Huffman, leaves Monday to enter the employ of a large Toledo hardware company. Mr. Fraser will no doubt succeed in his new position. He carries with him all the well wishes of a host of friends. Mr. Fraser is a Kendallville boy, whom everybody knows.

WILL GET RESULTS—SENTINEL ADS

VETERANS WILL HOLD NEXT REUNION AT MONROEVILLE.

Fully three hundred veteran soldiers were present, many of them accompanied by their wives and daughters. At least one hundred of the old soldiers were members of the Thirtieth regiment.

Fort Wayne Veterans.

The group of Fort Wayne veterans who arrived to attend the reunion were the recipients of much honorary attention. Perhaps the most remarkable character in the group was Thomas Toomey, of Fort Wayne, who never missed a reunion nor a national encampment since there was one held. Mr. Toomey is now 74 years old, and has held a job at the big Bass foundry at Fort Wayne "ever since the war." That happens like this: On the bloody field of Shiloh, Col. Sion S. Bass was stricken, and it was Thomas Toomey, who, at the imminent risk of his own life, went to the rescue of his colonel and carried him from the field. The colonel lived only a week, but his gratitude to Toomey still lived. Toomey has a life job in the Bass works—and makes good. He is the recognized life of every gathering, his comrades delighting always to listen to Toomey's rich Irish brogue, and his Irish wit. Mrs. Toomey goes along.

Carried Old Battle Flag.

Then in this little procession of veterans was G. W. Wilbur, of New Haven, who carried with him the original battle flag of the Thirtieth. It is so torn and tattered that only by the most careful handling can it be held together. In the second day's fight at Shiloh, under its fighting folds, 129 men were either killed or wounded—and every thread in the old flag is sacred to these boys. Mr. Wilbur is so proud of it that when boarding the train the brakeman suggested that he could not get the flag into the car. Mr. Wilbur at once put on his fighting clothes and showed the trainman that he could—and he did.

There were a number of other veterans in this group—among them being Dan Drake and C. G. Cookingham from Kendallville. Then there were W. H. Stafford, of Auburn; C. S. Wolff, of Fort Wayne; H. D. Fulton, of company E, enlisted at Fort Wayne but now of Chicago; Asa Turner, of company D, Fort Wayne; H. G. Dawkins and James Dawkins, of New Haven, both of company D; John Schenrich, of Avilla, company F, and Ransom Allen, of company A, now of Ossian, who also served as quartermaster in the One Hundred and Sixtieth regiment in the Spanish-American war.

WILL LIVE IN INDIANA.

Gas and Electric Magnate to Have Big Estate in Porter County.

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 20.—Charles H. Geist, president of the South Bend and Mishawaka Gas company, a gas and electric magnate, whose interests are strung from Chicago to Philadelphia, has decided to come to Indiana to live. He is now planning for an estate which is to be crowned with a mansion that will be one of the finest in the country. The exact location for this dreamland has not definitely been decided, but it will comprise about 500 acres and will be somewhere in Porter county, near Valparaiso. He will rent a place in Chicago until his Indiana home is ready. The plans include golf links, stables for blooded horses, kennels, a garage complete in appliances, a fish pond, fine trees and paved driveways.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, Sept. 20.—A brisk upward movement of prices was in evidence with the commencement of dealings in stocks. The gain in Great Northern preferred reached 1⅜. Anaconda and Southern Railway preferred about a point and Union Pacific and Amalgamated Copper, ⅝. Northwestern fell nearly a point and Canadian Pacific and Pennsylvania were down a fraction. Operators on the long side of the market were encouraged by the diversified demand for stocks and bid up the representative stocks sharply. Of these the Coppers, Reading, Union Pacific and Great Northern preferred were the most benefited and they resisted the realizing movement that ensued. Illinois Central gained three points.

Realizing affected some stocks while others made additional gains. Union Pacific preferred and Pacific Coast rose 4½; Hocking Valley Trust, 1½; the Preferred stock 2¾; Distillers' Securities 2; Allis-Chalmers 1⅜; the Preferred 1½. United States Pipe preferred and Federal Mining preferred fell 1; Republic Steel preferred 1⅜ and American Beet Sugar 1½. The future of the bond market was the rise of ⅝ in the New York City 4½. Bonds were generally firm.

Prices receded slowly until the morning advances were wiped out or converted into small losses. Brisky buying of Reading which carried it up a point steadied the market later.

Dullness and lower prices prevailed in the the afternoon. Failure of Reading to retain its advantage stimulated sales of the other stocks and the entire list ruled below yesterday's closing.

A bulletin bearing the signature of General Passenger Agent B. F. Horner announces the appointment of J. C. Melenbacker, traveling passenger agent at Fort Wayne, vice C. A. Melin, who has been appointed district passenger agent of the eastern division, with headquarters at Erie, Pa., as stated in these columns yesterday. Mr. Melenbacker has been agent at Cleveland for a year, having succeeded Mr. Francisco, deceased. Before going to Cleveland he was in the company's city office at Buffalo. He will make Fort Wayne headquarters.

Albert W. Irelan, for ten or twelve years employed at the Pennsylvania shops, and his family left at 8:40 o'clock this morning, over the Grand Rapids road, for Sault Ste. Marie to take up his ministerial duties with a Free Methodist congregation. Mr. Irelan was around the shops early this morning, shaking hands with the boys.

HEAVY THROUGH TRAVEL.

The passenger business of the steam lines is simply immense at present and the Pennsylvania is getting its full share of it. Yesterday the company had to run trains Nos. 16, 23, 8 and 24 in two sections each in order to handle the business. These trains cater only to through business. The local passenger trains are also doing a big business, each train having one or more extra cars.

SHOPMEN WILL GO FISHING.

William Reinking, an engineer, and Shopmen O. W. Schilling, Jacob Troutman, Marshall Comincavish, John T. Leach and A. J. Morell, of the Pennsylvania, will compose an outing party that will leave early tomorrow morning for Lake James for a two days' fishing expedition.

BECOMES EXPRESS MESSENGER

The National Express company has advanced William Marhenke from driver of one of its city wagons to train messenger, with a run between Fort Wayne and Connersville, on the Lake Erie and Western road. He made his first trip out in that capacity. With the exception of a short time, when he was on the city police force, Mr. Marhenke has been in the employ of the Express company twelve years. He has been succeeded as driver by Christian Hahn, who has been promoted from the ranks, and William Shaffer has been employed to fill the vacancy caused by the advancement of Hahn.

TWO SPECIALS TOMORROW.

The Pennsylvania will have two special trains tomorrow. One will move Sousa's band from Valparaiso to Chicago and the other will carry a number of Polish people from Chicago and the northwest on their way to Baltimore to attend a convention.

GENERAL MANAGER MILLER EAST.

General Manager Henry Miller, of the Wabash, will pass through the city at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, en route from St. Louis to Detroit. He will not stop here, but may on his return from the east. General Superintendent S. E. Cotter and several other officials of the Wabash were in the city several hours yesterday.

KEPT FAITH WITH FAIR PEOPLE.

C. A. Melin, district passenger agent of the Nickel Plate, has fulfilled his promises to the management of the fair association. A few weeks ago Mr. Melin told Secretary Meyers that the Nickel Plate would bring in from the territory along that line of railway between 900 and 1,000 people on a special train one day during the fair week. That train came in at 10:45 o'clock this morning and it brought just 914 people. The train was made up of ten coaches and a baggage car and it was loaded to its full capacity, standing room being all taken in the aisles of some of the cars. A notable feature of the crowd was the preponderance of the female sex, it being estimated that fully three-fifths of the passengers were women. And all went to the fair grounds as soon as they could get aboard cars.

LARRY DOOLEY PROMOTED.

Pennsylvania trainmen have been advised of the promotion of L. M. Dooley, for many years a passenger conductor on the Panhandle road, running in and out of Chicago. He was recently appointed general yardmaster at St. Louis of the Iron Mountain road, a position of great responsibility and one whose emoluments include a handsome salary. Mr. Dooley left the Panhandle a few years ago to become trainmaster of the Danville division of the C. & E. I. road, but resigned a year ago and went to the Iron Mountain, where he has "made good" and has been advanced. Mr. Dooley has relatives in Fort Wayne and is an occasional visitor here. He commenced railway work as a freight brakeman on the Wabash and for awhile ran in and out of Fort Wayne.

ENGINEER PETERS INJURED.

While Thomas Peters, a Nickel Plate engineer, was climbing in his cab preparatory to bringing passenger train No. 5 from Bellevue to Fort Wayne night before last, his foot slipped on the step and he came down on his knee on the edge of the step with force sufficient to badly injure the knee. He had to abandon the run. This is the first time Mr. Peters has been injured so as to disable him since he has been employed on the Nickel Plate.

ROXY FARLAND LEAVES CITY.

Roxy Farland, the leader of the strikebreaking forces that came here last May to work in the Bass Foundry, left today for Cleveland, where he will undertake a similar task in a big foundry. Farland has been at work at the Bass foundry ever since he came here, but affairs there are too tame for him now and he seeks more exciting fields. Mrs. Farland, who was with her husband in this city, went with him to Cleveland.

SLIGHT WRECK AT VAN WERT.

A mishap to a freight train at Van Wert at 10:30 o'clock this morning blocked the Pennsylvania main lines an hour or more and delayed passenger trains 23 and 39 forty or forty-five minutes. The wreck was the result of the pulling out of a drawbar in a box car. The latter swung around and went over on its side on the tracks. The wreck crew was called to the scene. The damage was light, but the delay to traffic annoying.

William Driftmeyer, of the construction department of the Electric works, went to Huntington this morning to do some work on an electric plant.

The attractive features of the fair were more than could be resisted by a number of Bass employes today and over 100 of them failed to show up for work this morning. Yesterday the shop was closed in order that the men could go to the fair and some of them are there today also.

Boilermaker James Keenan resigned a position at the Wabash shops this morning and left at noon for Danville, Ill., where he expects to find employment.

Blacksmith L. P. Spanley, of the Pennsylvania shops, and his wife will leave tomorrow upon a little pleasure trip which will consume a week. They will first go to Chicago and thence to Hobart. At the latter place Mr. Spanley will do a little hunting and fishing.

E. S. Philley, who had been combining business and a visit with his Fort Wayne relatives and friends for a day or two, left for his home in Celina at noon. Mr. Philley was agent of the Lake Shore at this point a number of years.

Machinist C. F. A. Stein, who resigned a position at the Bass works, has formed a partnership with Machinist Hess, formerly foreman of the Noble Machine works, in the establishment of an automobile repair shop on East Columbia street.

Among the Pennsylvania enginemen who are off duty on account of sickness tonay are L. W. Brewster, W. E. Durst, C. Kauffman, F. W. Paulish, F. Sellers and G. W. Butler. A number are also off by permission and a much greater number would like to be. The road is busy and cannot spare so many men from duty at once.

W. Boyce, who resigned a position at the Wabash shops yesterday, left at noon today over the interurban, where he will take another position. Other resignations at the Wabash shops yesterday were W. Harris and S. Kudler.

A delegation to the Sprout family reunion at Mansfield, Ohio, passed through the city at noon today. They occupied a special car and came from some point up the G. R. & I. road and were delivered to the Pennsylvania at this point. The Sprout family reunion is a great event to the several hundred people who belong to the family tree.

TRAVELER'S TRUNK FOUND.

Had Been Broken Open and Robbery Was Intended.

Thetrunk stolen from the Wayne hotel here Wednesday night and shipped out of the city was located today at Lafayette and the fact that it had been broken open lends color to the fact that it was mistaken for a trunk of valuable jewelry.

The message from the authorities to the local police simply gave the information that the trunk had been recovered, but that the man who took it out of Fort Wayne had skipped and was not apprehended. He left it at one of the hotels after he had broken it open and the samples of linen that it contained were not touched.

ALL ATTENDED GREAT FAIR.

Public Buildings Deserted and Clerks Took Half Holiday.

There was a formal convening of both the circuit and superior courts this morning, but more than the disposition of a little routine business nothing was done and before noon an adjournment was taken and the officials went out to the fair grounds.

City offices were also closed during the afternoon as there was absolutely nothing for the employes to attend to. Controller Schmidt stuck and was about the only official who resisted the temptation.

LEM QUIGG GOT BIG BUNCH OF GOOD CHECKS

New York Politician Was in Pay of Consolidated Traction Concern.

New York, Sept. 20.—Inquiry by the public service committee into the affairs of the Interborough-Metropolitan company has been enlivened by the introduction of cancelled checks which were paid to L. E. Quigg, the politician, and Eugene Ellsworth, in 1902, by the Metropolitan street railway company. These checks had been charged to "special construction accounts." Subsequently William I. Ivens, counsel to the commission to the transit investigation sought to learn from D. C. Moorhead, treasurer of the New York City railway company, what service Mr. Quigg rendered the Metropolitan, but he was not successful.

The checks were placed in evidence during the examination of Marvin Scudder, an accountant employed by the commission who had looked into the Metropolitan's "construction" account. One check was drawn to Eugene Ellsworth on Oct. 20, 1902 for $1,875.

The checks given to Quigg were as follows: Oct. 4, 1902, $1,000; Nov. 23, 1902, $1,000 and Dec. 23, 1902, $1,000. All were signed "Moorehead, treasurer" and were drawn on the Chase National bank. They had been endorsed by the payee.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 20.—The Central Ohio conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, in session here yesterday disposed of three most important questions in short order. By a vote of 116 to 49, the conference voted in favor of returning to the old time limit as to tenure of pastors with churches. After taking this vote a motion to express it as the sense of the conference that the time limit be fixed at five years was unanimously adopted.

Harsha, a retired Methodist minister, was horsewhipped last night until he begged for mercy and was then taken to his own ranch, a mile away, where he was told to remain with his own wife and children under pain of a worse punishment. Higginsville, Mo., Sept. 20.—Judge Baracley in the circuit court here yesterday declared that the act of the general assembly of 1907 fixing eight hours as the work day for railroad telegraphers was unconstitutional on the ground that it was a special or class legislation, in violation of an article of the state constitution.

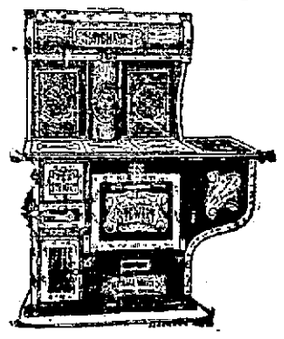
Stewart Range Cooking



Makes the kitchen work a pleasure. The STEWART RANGE positively represents the highest type of modern range building. If you are looking for the BEST in steel range line, a STEWART is the only one to be considered. 'Tis true, they're not as cheap as the 50c oil stove we sell, but if you can stand their price, they're worth it. Two hundred families in this vicinity prepare their edibles on a Stewart Steel Range and every single one of these customers of ours is proud of his purchase. A full line of STEWARTS shown at all times.

You are welcome to inspect them, even if you do not intend to buy.
